

Past Year's Inflation Rated Worst In The Last Two Decades

WASHINGTON (AP) — Every month 240 men and women fan out in 56 cities, large and small, across the land to find out how much you're paying to bring home the bacon, and a lot of other items.

They check the prices in 18,000 retail stores and service establishments, from shopping center supermarkets to the little laundry on the corner.

The figures they compile are sent to the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics, which uses them to put together one of the nation's most vital economic indicators, the Consumer Price Index.

Monthly Report

This is the monthly report that shows the price trends for food, clothing, housing, transportation, medical care and recreation—that pinpoints the pinch you feel as the cost of living continues to rise.

"On the whole, it is quite an accurate statistic," said Dr. Joel Popkin, the bureau's assistant commissioner for prices. Government statisticians figure on no more than a one-tenth of one per cent error in the figures.

The bureau has been compiling the living cost reports for 50 years, periodically updating the items sampled to account for changing spending patterns and new products. The latest revision was in 1964.

Worst In 20 Years

The index for the past year has shown a steady rise in prices at a rate of 6 per cent or more, the worst inflationary climb in 20 years.

The report is compiled in terms of index points and percentages, not in dollars and cents, but can be readily converted into money terms.

For instance, the April index for all items showed a climb of eight index points from March, up from 133.2 to 134. This represented a rise of six-tenths of one per cent for the month.

The index figure, based on average 1957-59 prices, means it took $134 in April to pay for the same "market basket" of typical family goods and services that cost $100 a little more than a decade ago.

Companion Report

A companion report, based on average weekly wages for some industry payroll figures, shows 45 million rank-and-file workers and how they are faring with inflation. The April report said the weekly wage of $117.98 was up 6 cents in pay, but down 43 cents in purchasing power because of inflation. The average wage was up $6.23 over the year, but down 20 cents in purchasing power.

The price index covers costs of everything people buy for living—food, clothing, automobiles, homes, house furnishings, household supplies, fuel, drugs and recreational goods; fees to doctors, lawyers, beauty shops; rent, repair costs, transportation fares, public utility costs etc., the bureau said.

Taxes Included

"In pricing lawyers fees, for instance, a sampler will price the fee for a short form will," Popkin said.

The price index also includes sales, excise and real estate taxes, but not income or personal property taxes because they are not directly associated with the costs of goods or services.

Some items are priced every month over a period of several days or weeks; other items that do not show too frequent changes will be sampled only every three months or so.

The various items are weighted for the index computation, according to the estimated importance of each.

Food is given a weight of 22.68 per cent of the "market basket" on the estimation that the average city workers' family spends that much of its budget on food. Housing gets 33.20 per cent of the weight of the index, clothing 10.73 per cent, health and recreation 19.70 per cent including 6.25 per cent for medical care, and 5.12 per cent for other goods and services.

The samplers price 400 different items in all.

Labor Leaders, Business Differ On Nixon's Talk

NEW YORK (AP) — Top labor leaders criticized President Nixon's economic proposals while the business community reacted with mixed views.

Labor spokesmen said Wednesday the President's plan for calling public attention to significant wage or price increases would hurt labor without reducing inflation.

Some business executives and economists expressed disappointment that the President did not go far enough in the area of wage and price controls.

Others lauded the President's stand, saying they found his speech reassuring.

Jesse Werner said he regretted that the President did not "give more consideration to steps more closely approaching wage and price controls."

University of Chicago economist Milton Friedman called Nixon's talk a "further demonstration that the President has a steady, long-range policy and the courage to pursue it despite a lot of political pressure for wage and price controls."

RCA Chairman Robert W. Sarnoff said, "I am pleased by the President's decision not to seek mandatory wage and price controls."

"President Nixon's latest program against inflation is, like his previous policies and tactics in the economic area, weighted against the American worker," said Paul Jennings, president of the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers.

"It includes nothing ... to bring down interest rates, nothing to correct the imbalance between high prices and inadequate wages, and nothing to put a brake on excess profits," he said.

Paul Samuelson, economist at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, characterized the speech as "anticlimactic," and called the idea of spotlighting wage and price increases "a very weak thing."

Sukarno Near Death, Report

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Former President Sukarno was reported near death today. "It is only a matter of time now," said one of the relatives who gathered at the hospital bedside of Indonesia's George Washington.

An attending physician said the chances of Sukarno's surviving were 25-75 against him.

"We are doing our best, but the old man is very weak," the doctor said. Now 69, Sukarno has suffered from kidney stones, high blood pressure and a circulatory ailment for several years.

He was rushed to the army hospital Tuesday night in a coma. He reportedly regained consciousness after reaching the hospital but was unable to speak to his divorced first wife, Fatmawati, and to his children who came to see him.

Earlier this year Sukarno was taken to the hospital, but he responded then to treatment and was returned to the spacious, lonely mansion on the edge of Jakarta where he has been under house arrest since he was deposed in 1968.

Once the playboy of the eastern world, Sukarno reluctantly granted a divorce to one of his five official wives in 1967, to two others last year—among them Fatmawati—and to his fifth, Ratna Sari Dewi, a 29-year-old former Tokyo nightclub hostess, last January.

State Firm Sold

NORTHPORT (AP) — Timber Shores Inc., one of the nation's leaders in providing a resort for recreational vehicles, has been sold to a California firm.

The Northport resort was sold to Recreation Environments, Inc., a subsidiary of the Great Southwest Corp. of Newport Beach, Calif. The sale price was nearly $1.75 million.

Weather

ESCANABA AND VICINITY: Cloudy and cooler with occasional rain today, high in the upper 60s. Mostly cloudy and cool tonight with lows in the 40s. Partly cloudy and cool Friday with highs in the 40s. Winds west to northwest 15 to 25 mph tonight becoming westerly 10 to 20 mph Friday. Probabilities of precipitation: 40 per cent today, 20 per cent tonight and 10 per cent Friday. Wednesday's high was 78 with a low reading of 61 recorded overnight. Sun sets today at 8:41 and rises Friday at 4:58.

Killed By Car

GLENDORA (AP) — A 72-year-old Buchanan man, Arnold Ritchie, was killed near Glendora in southern Berrien County Wednesday when he apparently stepped in front of a car. The accident occurred at an intersection of two county roads about a mile west of Glendora.

Postal Reform Remains 'Alive'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has defeated efforts to block reform of the Post Office Department and approved a measure banning compulsory union membership for mailmen.

An amendment by Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., to kill the reform plan, grant workers an 8 per cent pay raise and fire striking postal workers was defeated Wednesday 105-57.

The House then amended the bill to create an independent, self-supporting U.S. Postal Service, raise pay 8 per cent, and permit each worker to decide whether to join a union.

Opponents of the ban against compulsory union membership said it would throw the balance of power in pay negotiations to management and supercede state union laws.

Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., argued postal unions should be permitted to enlist maximum support for negotiations with management that will be under pressure to keep wages low.

Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., said the House-approved ban "for the first time will reach the long arm of the federal government" into the 39 states that permit compulsory unionism and exempt mailmen from state laws.

The vote on the amendment by Rep. David N. Henderson, D-N.C., was 179 to 95.

The Henderson amendment inserts into the bill the language of executive orders by President Nixon and former President John F. Kennedy that mailmen have the right to join or refrain from joining unions.

The 11 postal unions count about 600,000 of the country's 740,000 mail workers as members.

Peninsula Gets $212,712 Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Upper Peninsula Economic Action Program has been awarded a $212,712 grant from the U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity, U. S. Rep. Phil Ruppe, R-Mich., announced Wednesday.

The Houghton congressman said the money is to be used to continue a program of legal services for the disadvantaged of Northern Michigan during the next year.

White House Not Planning To 'Punish' Price Boosters

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration leaders seemed bent today on de-emphasizing the "inflation alert" portion of President Nixon's new anti-inflation plan, saying the White House won't turn its publicity spotlight on individual price-boosting companies.

And congressional reaction gave ample evidence that Nixon's Wednesday broadcast on the state of the economy will not quiet the clamor in Congress for a tougher anti-inflation clampdown.

Too Little, Too Late

While Republican senators generally endorsed the Nixon proposals, Democratic congressional leaders branded them "vague... soothing rhetoric... too little and too late."

Nixon announced he will

Cost Of Living Still Going Up At Steady Pace

WASHINGTON (AP) — A rise in living costs of four-tenths of one per cent last month added to the nation's worst inflationary spiral in twenty years but a government official said there has been a "significant" slowing of the pace of price hikes in recent months.

Costs of all major categories were up, with transportation and clothing posting the largest price hikes in May, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

The bureau figured the May rise at five-tenths of one per cent on a seasonally adjusted basis for the fourth straight month, because food prices rose instead of dropping as usual in May.

"The rate has come down from the six-tenths of one per cent rate of November, December, and January," said Dr. Joel Popkin, assistant commissioner of the bureau.

"It has come down to five-tenths of one per cent monthly changes, which is significant," he said of the past four months.

He added that the four-tenths actual rise in May was more significant to consumers because it reflected prices they had to pay, while the seasonal figure of five-tenths was of more interest to economic analysts.

The May increase boosted the government's Consumer Price Index to 134.6, meaning it cost $134.6 last month for every $100 worth of typical family spending in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based. The four-tenths of one per cent rise was the smallest since last January, when it was also four-tenths but figured seasonally as a six-tenths rise.

The bureau also reported that some 45 million rank and file workers gained $1.06 a week to an average pay check of $118.72 weekly in May because of a two-cent hourly rise in pay and a slightly longer work week.

Cambodia Pullout Promise Not Kept

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although President Nixon has said "the great majority" of U.S. forces would be out of Cambodia by now, authoritative sources say half the number of American troops sent into that nation is still there.

The President also has promised to have all American troops out by June 30. He repeated the pledge Wednesday in his televised report to the nation on economic conditions.

10,000 GIs Remain

As of Wednesday, however, the sources said about 10,000 American troops remain in Cambodia "still searching, still sweeping and still removing enemy supplies" from the jungle sanctuaries along the South Vietnamese border.

In his May 8 news conference, Nixon said: "The great majority of all American units will be out by the second week of June."

The Defense Department has said the U.S. troop level in Cambodia reached 20,000 men soon after the incursion started April 29.

Pledge Denied

The White House denied this week the President's words about the mid-June target constituted a pledge. A spokesman contended the President had merely voiced an expectation based on field reports from Saigon.

Since the Cambodian operation began with the announced purpose of cleaning out enemy sanctuaries, the White House and Pentagon have used different figures on the number of troops involved.

Pressure Now Turns On President Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — A chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, an ardent supporter of the Voting Rights Act but equally strong in his opposition to lowering the voting age. It was mainly to overcome Celler's opposition that Mansfield devised his strategy.

It worked to perfection Wednesday when Celler led the fight to accept the Senate bill, although still no fan of youthful voting.

Cells said there would be no way to save the Voting Rights Act from expiring in August if the House passed only the Voting Rights extension and followed the normal procedure of a House-Senate conference to range over the lower voting age.

Prompt Judicial Test

As for the 18-year-old vote, Celler said it carries a provision, calling for a prompt judicial test and a review by the Supreme Court that should settle any constitutional question before January 1. In Celler's opinion the Supreme Court will find it unconstitutional.

The outcome was a triumph for an unlikely coalition of youthful, idealistic volunteers and gray, practical politicians who helped build the winning margin through weeks of hard lobby.

One of the coalition's moving spirits was 78-year-old House Speaker John W. McCormack, who made passage of the bill his key remaining goal before retiring at the end of this term.

Veto Unlikely

At the end of Wednesday's brief but emotional debate, House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford spoke of Nixon's past opposition and raised the possibility the President might let the bill become law without signing it. There had been earlier speculation of a veto.

Civil rights groups were alarmed when the Senate, at Mansfield's insistence, tied the 18-year-old voting proposal to the bill extending the Voting Rights Act.

One of the most successful civil rights law ever enacted, the 1965 act has resulted in adding a million Negroes to the voting rolls in seven Southern states. Its supporters feared it would be dragged under by the weight of so controversial a proposal as teen-age voting.

Limit Put On Expansion Of Missile Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee has voted to limit expansion of the Safeguard missile defense system in a bid to outflank critics who want the program pruned far more drastically.

The committee's Wednesday action to cut funds for four Safeguard bases marked the first successful move to curtail the program. It came after Safeguard critics—who came within one vote in 1969 of killing the entire program—indicated they would try for stringent restrictions.

"I think this action will make it easier to get Senate approval," committee Chairman John D. Stennis said afterwards. "I think it will strengthen the passage of the Safeguard program."

The four bases were described by administration officials as essential to the area defense plan designed to thwart a possible rocket attack by mainland China.

The Safeguard package was part of a $20.2 billion Pentagon procurement bill that was trimmed $1.3 billion by the committee.

Although the Safeguard action was the highlight, the panel also approved discretionary powers for President Nixon to sell $325 million in jet war planes to Israel; deleted fund requests for a third nuclear attack carrier that would have cost $152 million; and killed the Cheyenne helicopter program.

It approved with some restrictions, funds for the controversial C-5 giant jet transport and the F111 fighter-bomber.

The Safeguard action came in two votes.

Public Works Bill Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $5.24 billion public works bill stressing construction of municipal waste treatment plants and improvement of water quality was approved today by the House Appropriations Committee.

Subject to House consideration next week, it would provide financing for the fiscal year starting July 1 for the Army Engineer Corps, the Bureau of Reclamation, the Tennessee Valley Authority, the Atomic Energy Commission and several other agencies.

In a report accompanying the bill, the committee approved "the concept that mankind can find a reasonable balance between the demands of the natural environment and those of its own man-made environment."

In a report accompanying the bill, the committee approved "the concept that mankind can find a reasonable balance between the demands of the natural environment and those of its own man-made environment."

It approved with some restrictions, funds for the controversial C-5 giant jet transport and the F111 fighter-bomber. The Safeguard action came in two votes.

Weather

ESCANABA AND VICINITY: Cloudy and cooler with occasional rain today, high in the upper 60s. Mostly cloudy and cool tonight with lows in the 40s. Partly cloudy and cool Friday with highs in the 40s. Winds west to northwest 15 to 25 mph tonight becoming westerly 10 to 20 mph Friday. Probabilities of precipitation: 40 per cent today, 20 per cent tonight and 10 per cent Friday. Wednesday's high was 78 with a low reading of 61 recorded overnight. Sun sets today at 8:41 and rises Friday at 4:58.

Chamber Warns Residents Over Itinerant Salesmen

The Escanaba Area Chamber of Commerce today reminded residents of the area to be wary of itinerant salesmen.

"With the warm weather comes the annual onslaught of the home repair racketeers offering phony bargains, tricky financing, poor performance, inferior materials, and promises they have no intention of keeping," said Walter G. Lewke, Manager of the Chamber.

Itinerant repairmen, glub door-to-door salesmen and hard-sell mail order firms promoting "fast-growing" trees and shrubs with madeup names all start descending on the homeowner.

Products include window frames, patios, car posts, shade trees, fictitiously priced shell homes, reroofing and driveway surfacing.

Bill Is Certain

The traveling repairmen, who should not be confused with representatives of reputable firms, have a number of specialties, such as roofing, gutters, chimneys, siding, "miracle" house paint that is supposed to outlast the house, trees, termite control, lightning protection devices, and furnace inspection.

In dealing with these unknowns, the only thing the householder can be certain of is the bill. It will be higher than the pitchman had led the customer to believe, and once it is paid, the traveling fix-it man will disappear, Lewke said.

The itinerant "contractor" will say he just happened to be in the neighborhood on another job when he noticed that the driveway or roof or siding or whatever was in need of repair. Because his gear is nearby, he says he can make it like new in a jiffy at less than his usual rates.

Also peddled by the fly-by-night repairmen is "humus" for the lawn. The rich black "loam" he displays frequently is waste material containing noxious substances that will destroy a lawn.

Phony termite experts "find" termites all over the home and in the trees and shrubs outside. The termite man probably would not know a termite if he saw one, but he reports he can get rid of them, Lewke pointed out.

Advice From NBBB

Driveway resurfacing are fond of spreading a gooey mess on a driveway. They often charge more than a legitimate job would cost, and skip town while the owner tries to get rid of the new "paving."

The National Better Business Bureau advises homeowners to: Be skeptical when a man rings the bell and says he just happened to be passing by with his home repair equipment or gardening supplies;

Double check so-called bargain offers before committing themselves;

Get price quotations from established firms on all landscaping or home improvements;

Make sure they understand all written agreements and contracts before signing;

Check on the address of an itinerant repairman.

Ask the Better Business Bureau of your Chamber of Commerce for information about unknown firms or individuals, said Lewke.

Peggy Joque Returns From Washington Trip

Peggy Joque, state winner in the national write-in contest sponsored by the Pepsi Cola Co., and Sister Benilda of Holy Name High School were guests recently of the Pepsi Cola Co. in Washington, D. C.

Their tour of the nation's capitol included the Capitol, the White House, the Washington Monument, the Lincoln Memorial, the Smithsonian Institution, the Bureau of Engravings and Federal Bureau of Investigation.

A cruise on the Potomac River and a trip to Mount Vernon completed the list of excursions made by the 41 state winners and their chaperones. The group stayed at the famous Mayflower Hotel near the White House.

Highlight of the three-day tour was the Awards Banquet at which Betsy Mayo of Oklahoma was announced as the winner of the national prize of a $10,000 bond for herself and for her school. Bart Starr of the Green Bay Packers was the master of ceremonies for the event, which was attended by many Washington dignitaries, including members of Congress.

As a local and state winner, Peggy has received $1,025 in bonds and an additional $1,000 bond was also presented to Holy Name High School in May.

Peggy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Joque of 1220 First Ave. S., graduated from Holy Name this year. Her entry was a letter to the governor explaining why "I've Got a Lot to Live."

Wind, High Waves Trap Father, Son Near St. Joseph

ST. JOSEPH, Mich. (AP) — High winds and 6-foot waves trapped a father and son from Chicago on the end of a pier at St. Joseph for 45 minutes Wednesday.

Berrien County sheriff's deputies said 39-year-old Dante Pasquali and his 27-year-old son, Dante Jr., could not make it back to land after a Lake Michigan storm squall swept huge waves across the pier off which they were fishing.

Two marine officers from the Berrien County Sheriff's Department and a Coast Guard officer reached the men by boat. Then they pulled the Chicagoans in with a rescue line.

Waves knocked the five men down several times as they inched their way along the pier to the safety of the mainland.

Chamber Warns Residents Over Itinerant Salesmen

The Escanaba Area Chamber of Commerce today reminded residents of the area to be wary of itinerant salesmen.

"With the warm weather comes the annual onslaught of the home repair racketeers offering phony bargains, tricky financing, poor performance, inferior materials, and promises they have no intention of keeping," said Walter G. Lewke, Manager of the Chamber.

Itinerant repairmen, glib door-to-door salesmen and hard-sell mail order firms promoting "fast-growing" trees and shrubs with madeup names all start descending on the homeowner.

Products include window frames, patios, car posts, shade trees, fictitiously priced shell homes, reroofing and driveway surfacing.

The traveling repairmen, who should not be confused with representatives of reputable firms, have a number of specialties, such as roofing, gutters, chimneys, siding, "miracle" house paint that is supposed to outlast the house, trees, termite control, lightning protection devices, and furnace inspection.

In dealing with these unknowns, the only thing the householder can be certain of is the bill. It will be higher than the pitchman had led the customer to believe, and once it is paid, the traveling fix-it man will disappear, Lewke said.

The itinerant "contractor" will say he just happened to be in the neighborhood on another job when he noticed that the driveway or roof or siding or whatever was in need of repair. Because his gear is nearby, he says he can make it like new in a jiffy at less than his usual rates.

Also peddled by the fly-by-night repairmen is "humus" for the lawn. The rich black "loam" he displays frequently is waste material containing noxious substances that will destroy a lawn.

Phony termite experts "find" termites all over the home and in the trees and shrubs outside. The termite man probably would not know a termite if he saw one, but he reports he can get rid of them, Lewke pointed out.

Advice From NBBB

Driveway resurfacers are fond of spreading a gooey mess on a driveway. They often charge more than a legitimate job would cost, and skip town while the owner tries to get rid of the new "paving."

The National Better Business Bureau advises homeowners to: Be skeptical when a man rings the bell and says he just happened to be passing by with his home repair equipment or gardening supplies; Double check so-called bargain offers before committing themselves; Get price quotations from established firms on all landscaping or home improvements; Make sure they understand all written agreements and contracts before signing; Check on the address of an itinerant repairman.

Ask the Better Business Bureau of your Chamber of Commerce for information about unknown firms or individuals, said Lewke.

Tammy Wynette, Bobby Vinton Headline U. P. Fair Program

Mark August 18-23 on your calendar.
The Upper Peninsula State Fair in Escanaba has six days and six nights filled with entertainment, attractions and exhibits.

Starting with pre-entry day Sunday, Aug. 16, and continuing through Sunday, Aug. 23, the program features new schedules, new talent and higher premiums for exhibitors and show participants, said Cliff Perras, Fair manager. Sunday and Monday, for 8 o'clock Friday night.

Farmer's Day is Saturday, Aug. 22, and the program includes a 2 p.m. horsemanship contest, with teams from the area competing for premium monies. At 8 p.m. Saturday, modified and sportsman car racing will be held on the racetrack.

Patrol Day

Tuesday, Aug. 18, is Safety Patrol Day with a picnic on the grounds for safety patrol members, passes for rides and a new greased pig scramble plus youth contests starting at 2 p.m. in the grandstand area. Tuesday evening's highlight will be a demolition derby on the fairgrounds racetrack, beginning at 8 p.m.

Wednesday, Aug. 19, is Senior Citizens Day, with everyone 65 years of age or older admitted free to the fairgrounds. Top country and western talent has been scheduled for the 2 and 8 p.m. grandstand performances.

Tammy Wynette will headline the show, which will also feature George Jones and the Jones Boys. At 8 o'clock the same evening, the popular beef steer sale will take place in the barns area.

Bands To Battle

Thursday, Aug. 20, has been designated Queens Day — and the Battle of the Bands will be part of the afternoon and evening competitions. Queen contest director is Mrs. John Gries of Escanaba.

Friday, Aug. 21 is Governor's Day, with a 2 p.m. appearance by Gov. William Milliken at the grandstand. Following the Governor's address, popular young singer, Bobby Vinton will present a musical afternoon. A repeat performance is scheduled

Clown Featured

Capping the activities for Fair Week, Sunday's schedule presents Dick Rodgers and his polka band at the grandstand area at 2 p.m., with dancing on the backtopped area for all polka fans. The evening will again feature stock car racing beginning at 8 o'clock.

Throughout the week, Jo Jo The Clown will be making a return appearance on the grounds and the youth coffee house will be open. Square dancing will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday on the large dance area. A parade of a four horse hitch of clydesdales will be featured on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

A carnival will again operate on the midway Tuesday through Sunday, with three children's days featured this year. Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, ride prices will be reduced for the afternoons.

There has been no increase in gate admission for the 1970 Upper Peninsula State Fair, and children under 12 will be admitted free. Parking on the grounds is also free. There is no gate admission charge on Sunday and Monday, the entry days. All events are scheduled on eastern standard time.

Sewing Machine 'Pitches' Scored

Deceptive practices by sewing machine promoters were the subject of a warning issued today by Walter G. Lewke, manager of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce.

Lewke outlined four major come-ons common in this kind of promotion brought to the attention of the National Better Business Bureau, with which the chamber is affiliated through membership.

First is bait and switch. New or used machines are advertised at a very low price. The customer finds the product to be old, in poor condition, not available, or is given the impression by the salesman it is a poor buy. Then comes the switch—to a more expensive model.

Cabinet Scheme

In the cabinet scheme, a sewing machine is to be given away "free." The catch is that a cabinet must be purchased to qualify for the machine. NBBB says the cost of the machine and a handsome profit are included in the price of the cabinet. In offerings of this kind, the value of the machine may be overstated by several times.

Another gimmick is requiring purchase of a service and instruction policy to get a "free" machine. Again, the policy can cost much more than the market value of the machine. A recent innovation is requiring the purchase of fabrics over an extended period of time, again at an inflated price, to receive the machine.

One of the most common pitches is the discount certificate. A "winner" of a discount certificate, usually distributed following a fake contest or drawing, will find that the cost of the machine, minus the amount stated on the certificate, is no bargain at all.

The National Better Business Bureau has found that the sewing promotions use such terms as "nationally advertised price" and "advertised price" in a way to cover the cost of the machine and the discount certificate.

Contact Officials

NBBB says some firms sell sewing machines only in conjunction with discount certificates. The true price of the machine, according to NBBB, is much lower than the inflated "advertised price" when sold alone.

Honest contests are of limited duration and true discounts are temporary reductions in real value established over a significant period of time on the open market.

If a deceptive promotion is brought to your attention, NBBB says, warn your neighbors and contact your Chamber of Commerce or local law enforcement officials.

Munising Falls Purchased By Park Service

MUNISING — Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kolbus announced Wednesday they reluctantly signed over ownership of Munising Falls, one of the top tourist attractions in the Upper Peninsula to the National Park Service.

The 20-acre area, which is located in East Munising, is situated within the inner boundaries of the Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore, is visited annually by thousands of tourists. In addition to charging a small fee to sightseers, Mr. and Mrs. Kolbus also owned and operated a souvenir shop in the complex.

Price Not Disclosed

The falls have been owned by the Kolbus family since 1916 and operated as a tourist attraction for the past 14 years by the present owners. At a meeting of the Munising City Commission held two weeks ago, Mrs. Kolbus revealed that the offer made by the Park Service was less than they could realize from its operation over a 10-year period. The final purchase price was not disclosed by the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Kolbus told The Mining Journal this morning, "That mounting pressures prompted the reluctant sale of our most valuable asset. We had no alternative but to sign our property away to be included in the Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore. On June 3, we received a letter from the Land Acquisition officer informing us that if we did not enter into a purchase agreement by June 15, our property would be included in the next eminent domain proceedings (condemnation)."

Would Lose Concession

"On Tuesday, June 9, Richard Stanton, chief of the land acquisition office, Washington, D. C., came to Munising to discuss the matter with us. We were told at that time that the government would not submit their final offer if we went into court with over the selling price and that they would, in fact, enter their first offer, which was considerably less and that none of this money would be set aside in court."

He also stated that judicial proceedings in such a case would take about two years and that when the transaction was turned over to federal attorneys, the couple would lose their concession rights. Mr. and Mrs. Kolbus said that a contract was drawn up on June 9 by Stanton and left with them that evening.

"Great Loss"

"After much discussion," Mrs. Kolbus said, "We came to the conclusion that we could not survive two years without the income from our falls, nor could we endure the painful and expensive ordeal we would experience through prolonged court action. On June 12, after six years of anxiety and uncertainty, we could stand it no longer."

Mrs. Kolbus said, "That despite my husband's strong objections, we signed the contract before the deadline so that we could operate the complex for two more years and recoup some of what we feel is a great monetary loss."

The Munising couple will continue operation of the Munising Falls for the remainder of this year and all of the 1971 season.

"We were assisted in our attempt," Mrs. Kolbus said, "to receive adequate compensation for Munising Falls by State Rep. Dominic Jacobetti (D-Negaunee) and for this we are very grateful."

The Munising Falls 20-acre tract is believed to be the largest and most valuable privately-owned parcel of land in the 65,000 acre Pictured Rocks Lakeshore National Park.

Tammy Wynette, Bobby Vinton Headline U. P. Fair Program

Mark August 18-23 on your calendar.

The Upper Peninsula State Fair in Escanaba has six days and six nights filled with entertainment, attractions and exhibits.

Starting with pre-entry day Sunday, Aug. 16, and continuing through Sunday, Aug. 23, the program features new schedules, new talent and higher premiums for exhibitors and show participants, said Cliff Perras, Fair manager. Sunday and Monday, for 8 o'clock Friday night.

Farmer's Day is Saturday, Aug. 22, and the program includes a 2 p.m. horsepulling contest, with teams from the area competing for premium monies. At 8 p.m. Saturday, modified and sportsman car racing will be held on the racetrack.

Patrol Day

Tuesday, Aug. 18, is Safety Patrol Day with a picnic on the grounds for safety patrol members, passes for rides and a new greased pig scramble plus youth contests starting at 2 p.m. in the grandstand area. Tuesday evening's highlight will be a demolition derby on the fairgrounds racetrack, beginning at 8 p.m.

Wednesday, Aug. 19, is Senior Citizens Day, with everyone 65 years of age or older admitted free to the fairgrounds. Top country and western talent has been scheduled for the 2 and 8 p.m. grandstand performances.

Tammy Wynette will headline the show, which will also feature George Jones and the Jones Boys. At 8 o'clock the same evening, the popular beef steer sale will take place in the barns area.

Bands To Battle

Thursday, Aug. 20, has been designated Queens Day — and the Battle of the Bands will be part of the afternoon and evening competitions. Queen contest director is Mrs. John Gries of Escanaba.

Friday, Aug. 21 is Governor's Day, with a 2 p.m. appearance by Gov. William Milliken at the grandstand. Following the Governor's address, popular young singer, Bobby Vinton will present a musical afternoon. A repeat performance is scheduled

Clown Featured

Capping the activities for Fair Week, Sunday's schedule presents Dick Rodgers and his polka band at the grandstand area at 2 p.m., with dancing on the backtopped area for all polka fans. The evening will again feature stock car racing beginning at 8 o'clock.

Throughout the week, Jo Jo The Clown will be making a return appearance on the grounds and the youth coffee house will be open. Square dancing will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday on the large dance area. A parade of a four horse hitch of clydesdales will be featured on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

A carnival will again operate on the midway Tuesday through Sunday, with three children's days featured this year. Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, ride prices will be reduced for the afternoons.

There has been no increase in gate admission for the 1970 Upper Peninsula State Fair, and children under 12 will be admitted free. Parking on the grounds is also free. There is no gate admission charge on Sunday and Monday, the entry days. All events are scheduled on eastern standard time.

State Charade

The governor of Michigan is playing politics again.

After issuing executive orders banning commercial and sports fishing (it's all right to sports fish now under a special permit, but not all right to keep the fish) in Michigan waters of Lake Huron, Lake Erie, Lake St. Clair, the St. Clair River and the Detroit River because of mercury contamination, chopping the legs out from under dozens of commercial enterprises in southeastern Michigan which relied on fish and fishermen, Gov. William Milliken named a task force to develop recommendations for compensating those people who have suffered economically because of the ban.

The task force announced this week that it will hold public hearings in Mount Clemens, Port Huron and Monroe next month on the problem.

"We want to exterminate the extent of the suffering," said Carl Johnson of Grand Rapids, chairman of the task force.

A noble statement. A noble gesture. Even the use of the words "task force" lends a certain stature to the group that wouldn't be apparent if the governor had appointed a mere "committee."

It's all a big charade.

There is no money available to compensate those people whose lives have been changed by the executive orders. There are no federal funds, either.

The commercial fishermen of Delta County were told that months ago.

And the local situation isn't anywhere near as complicated as that in southeastern Michigan—just a few fishermen with thousands of dollars tied up in nets, rope, floats, boats and other equipment. In southeastern Michigan, the "Task Force" must deal with boat liveries, tackle shops, bait shops, commercial fishermen, sports fishermen.

Taking it one step further, how much should Michigan compensate Standard Oil Co. for loss of gasoline sales at marinas? How much should the state pay fishing tackle companies for the loss of sales at sport shops? How much should Michigan pay restaurant owners for the drop in customers because the fishermen are staying home?

Certainly there has been an economic impact in the area as a result of the fishing bans, but the state and federal treasuries are not designed to be economic insurance policies to protect the people against business setbacks.

If the state does not have money available to compensate commercial fishermen in the Escanaba area for equipment rendered worthless by an administrative action of the state, then it's folly to even consider compensation in southeastern Michigan.

Even worse is to lead people to believe they have something coming beyond the redress which should be available in the courts against the firms which contaminated the water. That's where the answer lies, not with a "task force" to develop recommendations. It's time the political masquerade ends.

Peninsula Potoourri

The City of Wakefield will observe its 50th anniversary as a city in a Golden Jubilee celebration July 2-5. A varied program of activities, including a lawn social, picnic, parade, commercial parade, community picnic, etc., is planned for the four-day event. The Golden Jubilee banquet is scheduled at 6 p. m. July 2 and will honor former residents, the Wakefield High School Class of 1920 and former city officials.

Burglars took more than $1,700 in cash and merchandise valued at about $200 from three Marquette business places recently. Detective Joseph S. Levandowski said that the cash and an estimated $100 in checks was stolen from a restaurant, Big Al's Speakeasy. Another $10 in coins, a stereo tape player, tapes and a camera were taken from Flanigan Brothers Warehouse. A tachometer valued at about $60 was removed from the Marquette Speed Shop.

A move to put a city income tax into effect has been started by the Ironwood City Commission. The budget crisis in that city, worsened by probable loss of revenues from the state because of a population decline, prompted City Manager Kenneth Long to place the proposal before the commissioners. He said the fiscal problem was already acute before the census axe fell. The commission will have to act promptly on the proposal if it is to go on the August primary election ballot. Long said the Ironwood budget has been trimmed, but is still $23,000 short of balancing income to expenses.

Tonnages of cargoes carried through the Soo Locks showed a slight decline for the month of May as compared with a similar period a year ago. For the first two months of the shipping season, however, tonnages were about a half million tons more than for the corresponding period in 1969. During May of this year, 12,361,316 tons of cargo were carried through the Soo, Mich., Locks. This compared with 12,633,577 tons carried during the same month last year. Total tonnage moved through the locks for April and May this year was 18,507,543 tons, compared with 17,972,122 tons up to this time last year.

Ironwood Catholic High School was refused permission recently to use Longyear Field for its football program. The action came on a 3-2 vote of the Ironwood Area Schools Board of Education after a warning by Luther L. Wright High School football coach Wayne Melchiori that the field was seriously overused and in need of major repairs. Melchiori called the field "the poorest in the U. P." and "overused right now." He listed the heavy use to which the field is subjected: high school and grade school grid games and practices, ROTC, drum and bugle corps and color units and athletic classes.

TWO CAN PLAY THE GAME

Rebels Know Problem, Don't Have Solutions

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

When I was in Switzerland last December I listened to some half-joking, half-serious discussion of something called the Schwarzenbach Amendment.

The brainchild of James Schwarzenbach, a Zurich publisher, this proposal, if adopted in a referendum, would have expelled 300,000 foreign workers from Swiss soil. Since Switzerland depends on 600,000 foreigners who do most of the unpleasant jobs in the country including the sweeping of the meticulously clean streets, my friends thought the whole proposition quite mad.

But lo and behold, when the referendum was held last week the Schwarzenbach proposal was defeated by a close vote of 654,000 to 557,000. A five per cent shift in the referendum pattern would have resulted in the ruin of Swiss industry, leaving the big metal-working establishments, the road and tunnel-building companies and the hotels and restaurants on which the Swiss economy depends without the manpower necessary to keep them going.

How could 46 per cent of the people in a progressive modern nation contemplate voting the bread out of their own mouths? Willi Schlamm, who left the U. S. to take up residence in Lugano, in the Italian section of Switzerland, after a distinguished career in American journalism as an adviser to Henry Luce of Time and Life, laughed when I asked him the question.

The Swiss, he said, actually have very little animus against foreign workers; since their country is tri-lingual, made up of German, French and Italian stock, the people of Switzerland are used to differences. In Schlamm's opinion the big turnout for the Schwarzenbach Amendment represented nothing less nor more than a mounting disgust with the conditions of life in the modern world.

Willi Schlamm has been visiting in the U. S. after a prolonged absence. He thinks we are in much worse shape than the Swiss.

"Your country," he says, "is on the verge of 10 years of civil war. It will not be the class war that Marx envisaged. It will be the people versus the intellectuals." Like the Schwarzenbachians in Switzerland, the "silent majority" in the U. S. is simply disgusted with where events have taken them.

Willi has been talking with American labor leaders, and he asked one of them if Walter Reuther would be missed in the Automobile Workers Union. He was surprised to hear from his presumably well-informed source that Reuther, among the blue-collar rank-and-file of the auto workers, was a tolerated rather than a revered figure.

Reuther's Utopianism, so Willi was informed, was something out of the Roosevelt Decade, an ideological hangover. The blue-collar workers, who have had a hard enough time moving upwards into a middle-class range of life, watch incredulously as college kids, the sons and daughters of affluence, make a mockery of everything they had hoped to achieve for their own children. They blame the kids, but, more than that, they blame the faculties, the college presidents, the deans, the whole educational apparatus, for letting things come to our present pass.

So Schlamm sees the "hard hats" as representing the avant garde of the anti-intellectual rebellion against the permissive rich, the students, and a big-city, eastern-oriented communications setup that has lost touch with "middle America."

The Black Panthers, who have a dedicated leadership, might engage in a revolt that would parallel the student revolt, says Willi, and, though they are a distinct minority among the Negroes, they might hold a number of central city fortresses as hostages. However, they would be defeated. The outcome of the people-versus-the-intellectuals battle is less certain. But, says Willi, it will be fought to a bitter finish.

One is indebted to a foreign view for a certain clarity that one cannot achieve when one is immersed in a local situation. What Schlamm shocks me into seeing is that few people in the U. S. seem to be fighting for a cause that has any tangible objective.

The college rebels know what they hate; they do not have the ghost of an idea of what they would put in its place. Our unintelligent intellectuals have lost sight of the conditions that make for national preservation; they are willing to let our enemies encircle our friends and creep up to our frontiers. The concept of the balance of power is no longer taught in history classes. Our capitalists don't believe in themselves; industry is no longer an adventure.

So, as the poet Matthew Arnold said, "we are here as on a darkling plain . . . where ignorant armies clash by night."

And we can't escape to Switzerland, for the world's malaise is there, too.

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

The two most troubled periods in most people's lives are adolescence and middle age. They are startlingly alike in that during their reign a person's thoughts and actions are deeply influenced by an inner hysteria and insecurity of which outsiders may be almost totally unaware. The cure for both adolescence and middle age is the same: you simply have to outgrow them—and go on to a calmer and better time.

An old-timer is a guy who can remember when a girl going out on a date took along only a dollar bill for her mad money.

You rarely learn anything very interesting from talking to people at a cocktail party who wear sunglasses to cover up the way they still look from the cocktail party they went to the night before.

No one looks so hopeful as the old maid the day the cruise ship sails—or so forlorn the day it returns.

One of the things men wonder about all their lives is why girls tend to go to the powder room in pairs and what they talk about when they get there. Well, what they generally do is exchange opinions about their escorts, and the longer they linger in the powder room the less flattering those opinions are.

Nothing arouses the hidden paranoia in every office worker more than putting a dime in the office vending machine and getting back neither the soft drink nor the coin. It brings all the woes of his lifetime to a peak.

One of the first lessons of maturity is to have a wholesome distrust of anybody who is always telling you where to buy things wholesale. He's usually no bargain himself.

An optimist is a guy who marries a hatcheck girl in the belief that he can win a lovely smile from her every day thereafter by giving her a two-bit tip.

People are getting to have less and less faith in science, which at one time was supposed to create an endlessly better world. It has, instead, spawned so many Frankenstein horrors that all we can hope for is that it will refrain from cross-breeding termites with woodpeckers.

Newsmen are often unfairly blamed because the front page contains mostly bad news. But even if a newspaper printed a front page with nothing but good news on it, folks are so contrary that they'd still use it to line the bottom of a bird cage tomorrow.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

Opening lead—queen of clubs. I was playing with my son Mike in the finals of the national Life Masters Pairs when this hand came up.

He opened third hand with a spade and I responded four clubs. This unusual jump showed the values for a raise to four spades and simultaneously designated a singleton (possibly a void) in clubs.

There is no doubt in my mind that this singleton-showing device is a highly valuable aid to accurate slam bidding. Many slams depend on distributional features as well as high-card points, and the revelation of a singleton in a suit that partner is worried about is the key to many a sound slam.

The convention certainly worked well here. After East doubled four clubs I ran to four diamonds, announcing the ace, and Mike bid four hearts, likewise showing the ace.

I could now do no more than say four spades—there was a limit to how many bids I could make with two aces and no other high cards.

But when Mike bid five hearts, identifying the A-K and probably considerable heart length, my hand grew enormously in value and I had no compunctions about jumping to six spades.

This contract proved easy to make when declarer ruffed two clubs and a heart in dummy to bring home twelve tricks.

Strangely enough, though the hand was played at 26 tables, ours was the only one where the slam was reached. But then again, maybe this wasn't so strange, for if you're a point-count hound, you are highly unlikely to get to a slam when you have only 21 high-card points battling the opponents' 19.

Laird Tells Plans Of Pacific Fleet Use In Mideast

ABOARD THE USS FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said Wednesday the U. S. Pacific fleet will act to offset the Soviet navy in the Arabian Sea once the American vessels are relieved of duty in Indochina.

The Arabian Sea is south of the Arabian Peninsula and west of India.

The U. S. 6th Fleet now patrols in the Mediterranean. The U. S. 7th Fleet is on duty off the Indochinese peninsula, made up of the two Vietnamese, Laos and Cambodia.

Laird made his comments to newsmen while on a visit to this 6th Fleet carrier off Italy.

Laird said U. S. allies in the North Atlantic Treaty organization had expressed doubt about the Nixon administration's promise to pull out of Cambodia by June 30.

"I have assured them every minute that the present timetable will be met," he said.

Ann Landers

Letter Writer Put On Straight Road

Dear Ann Landers: I have just written to the publisher of the paper asking him to fire you. I am sure he will receive many other such letters. I work for the National Arthritis Foundation and I am incensed by your statement that arthritis is caused by gonorrhea. You have insulted every arthritic in the country. I don't see how you have held your job so long making such crazy statements as that. Do you write your column with a bottle of gin by the typewriter? Don't you have an editor who reads your stuff before it gets into the paper? I hope before they fire you that you will at least apologize — Boiling Over

Dear Boil: Please read the column again. I said, "The vast majority of people who have arthritis have rheumatoid or osteoarthritis not the gonorrheal type." Then I went on to say, in response to a direct question, "yes, gonorrhea can cause arthritis." That statement is correct. It does not mean, however, that everyone who has arthritis got it from V.D. Here is another example: Excessive drinking can cause cirrhosis of the liver, but not everyone with cirrhosis of the liver got it as a result of drinking. There — do you feel better?

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a woman in my mid 50's and have reared three children. I worked before the children were born and I made good money. I quit when our last child entered high school.

It's a pleasure not to set an alarm clock. I love staying at home and doing as I please. But my husband will not let me alone. He says I am lazy and stupid for piddling away my time. He has made me feel like a leech because I am not bringing in money. He is forever reading ads to me — "Help wanted, Female." Twice I have received calls from agencies which he undoubtedly "arranged."

My husband is an executive and we are not hard up for money. I have never been a big spender and am more conservative than most women in our crowd. I do my own hair. We have no maid in the house. I don't mind an occasional part-time job, but I don't want steady work. Is this wrong? — Fiscal Fracas Without End.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a teen-ager who would like to respond to your suggestion that teens should respect their parents and accept responsibility. I couldn't agree more, but how can teens respect their parents when they don't respect us and they don't give us any responsibility?

How is a kid supposed to know what respect is when his parents yell at him all the time, never give him a chance to explain anything, criticize him from morning till night—never a compliment or a word of encouragement. How are we supposed to know what responsibility is if everything is done for us and we aren't even allowed to make decisions vital to our lives? If a kid's parents won't give him respect and responsibility, who can he turn to? — Illinois Gripe

Dear I. G.: You've raised some excellent points. I hope it jars loose a few parental brains. Thanks for a good letter.

Confidential to Were We Insulted? Not necessarily. In fact, it might have been a compliment. "Lace Curtain Irish" are people of Irish descent who have fruit in the house when nobody is sick.

Unsure of yourself dates? What's right? What's wrong? Should you? Shouldn't you? Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Dating Do's and Don'ts," enclosing with your request 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

25 Years Ago

Ethel Bennett, physical education teacher at St. Peter, Minn., Junior high school has been employed as swimming instructor at Escanaba city beach for the summer. Particular emphasis will be placed this year on swimming classes for the younger children. The beach is scheduled to open today, but arrangements for the swimming classes have not yet been completed.

50 Years Ago

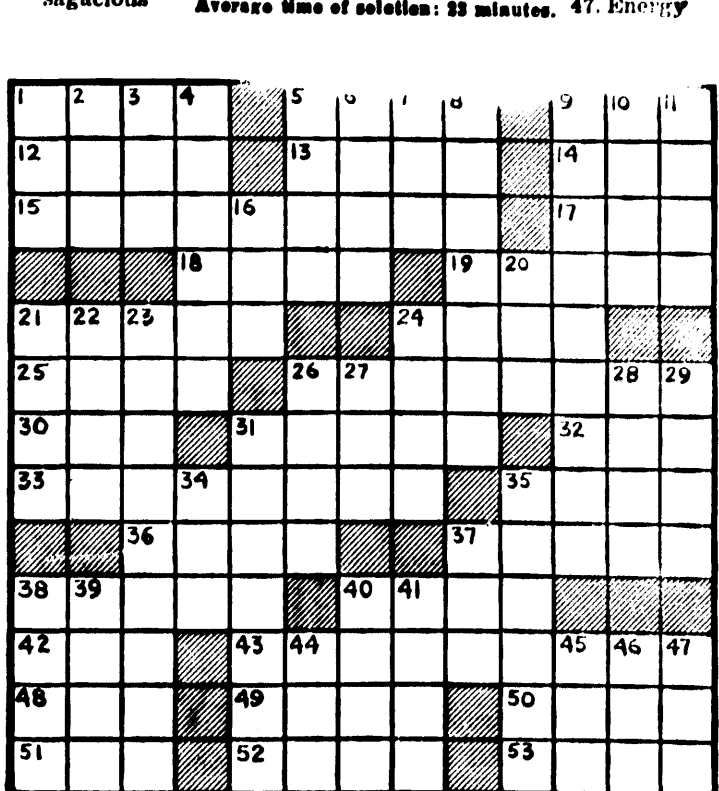

Indications were that a big crowd of Gladstone folks will go to Escanaba to attend the circus. As usual the old folks are going merely for the purpose of taking the children, but careful observation will disclose that the more mature eyes will sparkle with quite as much brilliancy as those of youth when the "lines" and "taggers" and other wild beasts pass in the parade.

Carrie Hawes and Irene White entertained pupils of the seventh grade at a picnic at Edgewood, preliminary to the closing of schools. Games were played and refreshments were served.

State Charade

The governor of Michigan is playing politics again.

After issuing executive orders banning commercial and sports fishing (it's all right to sports fish now under a special permit, but not all right to keep the fish) in Michigan waters of Lake Huron, Lake Erie, Lake St. Clair, the St. Clair River and the Detroit River because of mercury contamination, chopping the legs out from under dozens of commercial enterprises in southeastern Michigan which relied on fish and fishermen, Gov. William Milliken named a task force to develop recommendations for compensating those people who have suffered economically because of the ban.

The task force announced this week that it will hold public hearings in Mount Clemens, Port Huron and Monroe next month on the problem.

"We want to exterminate the extent of the suffering," said Carl Johnson of Grand Rapids, chairman of the task force.

A noble statement. A noble gesture. Even the use of the words "task force" lends a certain stature to the group that wouldn't be apparent if the governor had appointed a mere "committee."

It's all a big charade.

There is no money available to compensate those people whose lives have been changed by the executive orders. There are no federal funds, either.

The commercial fishermen of Delta County were told that months ago.

And the local situation isn't anywhere near as complicated as that in southeastern Michigan — just a few fishermen with thousands of dollars tied up in nets, rope, floats, boats and other equipment. In southeastern Michigan, the "Task Force" must deal with boat livers, tackle shops, bait shops, commercial fishermen, sports fishermen.

Taking it one step further, how much should Michigan compensate Standard Oil Co. for loss of gasoline sales at marinas? How much should the state pay fishing tackle companies for the loss of sales at sport shops? How much should Michigan pay restaurant owners for the drop in customers because the fishermen are staying home?

Certainly there has been an economic impact in the area as a result of the fishing bans, but the state and federal treasuries are not designed to be economic insurance policies to protect the people against business setbacks.

If the state does not have money available to compensate commercial fishermen in the Escanaba area for equipment rendered worthless by an administrative action of the state, then it's folly to even consider compensation in southeastern Michigan.

Even worse is to lead people to believe they have something coming beyond the redress which should be available in the courts against the firms which contaminated the water. That's where the answer lies, not with a "task force" to develop recommendations. It's time the political masquerade ends.

Peninsula Potpourri

The City of Wakefield will observe its 50th anniversary as a city in a Golden Jubilee celebration July 2-5. A varied program of activities, including a lawn social, kiddie parade, commercial parade, community picnic, etc., is planned for the four-day event. The Golden Jubilee banquet is scheduled at 6 p. m. July 2 and will honor former residents, the Wakefield High School Class of 1920 and former city officials.

Burglars took more than $1,700 in cash and merchandise valued at about $200 from three Marquette business places recently. Detective Joseph S. Levandowski said that the cash and an estimated $100 in checks was stolen from a restaurant, Big Al's Speakeasy. Another $10 in coins, a stereo tape player, tapes and a camera were taken from Flanagan Brothers Warehouse. A tachometer valued at about $60 was removed from the Marquette Speed Shop.

A move to put a city income tax into effect has been started by the Ironwood City Commission. The budget crisis in that city, worsened by probable loss of revenues from the state because of a population decline, prompted City Manager Kenneth Long to place the proposal before the commissioners. He said the fiscal problem was already acute before the census axe fell. The commission will have to act promptly on the proposal if it is to go on the August primary election ballot. Long said the Ironwood budget has been trimmed, but is still $23,000 short of balancing income to expenses.

Tonnages of cargoes carried through the Soo Locks showed a slight decline for the month of May as compared with a similar period a year ago. For the first two months of the shipping season, however, tonnages were about a half million tons more than for the corresponding period in 1969. During May of this year, 12,361,316 tons of cargo were carried through the Soo, Mich., Locks. This compared with 12,633,577 tons carried during the same month last year. Total tonnage moved through the locks for April and May this year was 19,507,543 tons, compared with 17,972,122 tons up to this time last year.

Ironwood Catholic High School was refused permission recently to use Longyear Field for its football program. The action came on a 3-2 vote of the Ironwood Area Schools Board of Education after a warning by Luther L. Wright High School football coach Wayne Melchiori that the field was seriously overused and in need of major repairs. Melchiori called the field "the poorest in the U. P." and "overused right now." He listed the heavy use to which the field is subjected: high school and grade school grid games and practices, ROTC, drum and bugle corps and color units and athletic classes.

TWO CAN PLAY THE GAME

Rebels Know Problem, Don't Have Solutions

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

When I was in Switzerland last December I listened to some half-joking, half-serious discussion of something called the Schwarzenbach Amendment.

The brainchild of James Schwarzenbach, a Zurich publisher, this proposal, if adopted in a referendum, would have expelled 300,000 foreign workers from Swiss soil. Since Switzerland depends on 600,000 foreigners who do most of the unpleasant jobs in the country including the sweeping of the meticulously clean streets, my friends thought the whole proposition quite mad.

But lo and behold, when the referendum was held last week the Schwarzenbach proposal was defeated by a close vote of 654,000 to 557,000. A five per cent shift in the referendum pattern would have resulted in the ruination of Swiss industry, leaving the big metal-working establishments, the road and tunnel-building companies and the hotels and restaurants on which the Swiss economy depends without the manpower necessary to keep them going.

How could 46 per cent of the people in a progressive modern nation contemplate voting the bread out of their own mouths? Willi Schlamm, who left the U. S. to take up residence in Lugano, in the Italian section of Switzerland, after a distinguished career in American journalism as an adviser to Henry Luce of Time and Life, laughed when I asked him the question.

The Swiss, he said, actually have very little animus against foreign workers; since their country is tri-lingual, made up of German, French and Italian stock, the people of Switzerland are used to differences. In Schlamm's opinion the big turnout for the Schwarzenbach Amendment represented nothing less nor more than a mounting disgust with the conditions of life in the modern world.

Don't you have an editor who reads your stuff before it gets into the paper? I hope before they fire you that you will at least apologize — Boiling Over

Dear Boil: Please read the column again. I said, "The vast majority of people who have arthritis have rheumatoid or osteoarthritis not the gonorrheal type." Then I went on to say, in response to a direct question, "yes, gonorrhea can cause arthritis." That statement is correct. It does not mean, however, that everyone who has arthritis got it from V.D. Here is another example: Excessive drinking can cause cirrhosis of the liver, but not everyone with cirrhosis of the liver got it as a result of drinking. There — do you feel better?

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a woman in my mid 50's and have reared three children. I worked before the children were born and I made good money. I quit when our last child entered high school.

It's a pleasure not to set an alarm clock. I love staying at home and doing as I please. But my husband will not let me alone. He says I am lazy and stupid for piddling away my time. He has made me feel like a leech because I am not bringing in money. He is forever reading ads to me — "Help wanted, Female." Twice I have received calls from agencies which he undoubtedly "arranged."

My husband is an executive and we are not hard up for money. I have never been a big spender and am more conservative than most women in our crowd. I do my own hair. We have no maid in the house. I don't mind an occasional part-time job, but I don't want steady work. Is this wrong? — Fiscal Fracas Without End.

Dear Fis: A woman in her mid-50's who has raised three children should not go back to a full-time job unless (1) additional income is needed or (2) she wants to.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a teen-ager who would like to respond to your suggestion that teens should respect their parents and accept responsibility. I couldn't agree more, but how can teens respect their parents when they don't respect us and they don't give us any responsibility?

How is a kid supposed to know what respect is when his parents yell at him all the time, never give him a chance to explain anything, criticize him from morning till night—never a compliment or a word of encouragement. How are we supposed to know what responsibility is if everything is done for us and we aren't even allowed to make decisions vital to our lives? If a kid's parents won't give him respect and responsibility, who can he turn to? — Illinois Gripe

Dear I. G.: You've raised some excellent points. I hope it jars loose a few parental brains. Thanks for a good letter.

Confidential to Were We Insulted?: Not necessarily. In fact, it might have been a compliment. "Lace Curtain Irish" are people of Irish descent who have fruit in the house when nobody is sick.

Unsure of yourself dates? What's right? What's wrong? Should you? Shouldn't you? Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Dating Do's and Don'ts," enclosing with your request 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

People, Events Of Yesteryears

25 Years Ago

Ethel Bennett, physical education teacher at St. Peter, Minn., Junior high school has been employed as swimming instructor at Escanaba city beach for the summer. Particular emphasis will be placed this year on swimming classes for the younger children. The beach is scheduled to open today, but arrangements for the swimming classes have not yet been completed.

An interesting color movie of Williamsburg will be shown at the meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Sherman Hotel.

50 Years Ago

Indications were that a big crowd of Gladstone folks will go to Escanaba to attend the circus. As usual the old folks are going merely for the purpose of taking the children, but careful observation will disclose that the more mature eyes will sparkle with quite as much brilliancy as those of youth when the "lines" and "taggers" and other wild beasts pass in the parade.

Carrie Hawes and Irene White entertained pupils of the seventh grade at a picnic at Edgewood, preliminary to the closing of schools. Games were played and refreshments were served.

More Production Asked By Detroit Automakers

DETROIT (AP) — Echoing a call for higher productivity by the top executive of General Motors Corp., the head of labor relations for Ford Motor Co. warned Wednesday that auto workers must produce more for their money if the U.S. auto industry is to meet the continuing threat of foreign imports.

Speaking before the Detroit Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi professional journalism fraternity, Malcolm Denise, Ford vice president for labor relations, said that the need for increased worker productivity will be an important factor in this summer's auto-labor contract talks.

Hard Reality
A "hard reality" to be faced in the negotiations, Denise said, "is the increasingly intense and sophisticated foreign competition in the North American vehicle market."

"Imported cars represent a serious challenge to sales and employment by the U.S. auto industry," he added.

In a much-publicized speech in St. Louis in February, James M. Roche, board chairman of General Motors, laid down a hard line in saying that auto workers could not expect wages to continue rising faster than their productivity.

Pay Hike Demand Seen
The UAW lists a "substantial wage increase" at the top of its contract demands.

Productivity is normally defined as output per man-hour worked and can also be defined as output per unit cost of labor.

Denise said the need to compete successfully with foreign carmakers is directly related to employment in the auto industry.

"In a 10 million car year, which we believe will be normal in the early 1970s, every percentage point of market share lost to imported cars means that 100,000 cars will be manufactured abroad rather than here," he said.

Imports Hurting
"Consequently, every point of market share taken by imported cars means the loss of more than 20,000 jobs for American workers."

Denise indicated that in addition to holding the line on wages, the cost of living escalator clause in the auto labor contracts will be a major factor in the negotiations.

After a seven-week strike against Ford in 1967, the UAW agreed to a modification of the clause which limited the cost-of-living allowance to eight cents an hour per year, with an additional increase in living costs to be made up at the end of the contract.

26 Cents Realized
Because of steady inflation during the three-year life of the present contract, the difference between the cost of living allowance paid under the new formula and that which would have been paid without the cap amounts to 26 cents an hour.

Denise said forcefully that the 26-cent carry-over—available as of Sept. 15, the day after contract expiration—for wages or benefits as specified in the contract, must be considered part of the value on any new contract settlement.

The union has indicated that it considers the carry-over as part of its gains won in the 1967 negotiations.

Taken Into Account
Denise said that in comparing the value of the settlement to be reached this year to those in other industries, the expectation of future cost-of-living allowance increases, as well as the 26-cent carry-over, must be considered.

"As we emphasized so strongly in 1967," he said, "the auto cost of living arrangements have to be taken into account when comparisons are made with settlements in other industries—and this is the vast majority—that do not use escalator clauses."

Pay Increases Possible
"Such settlements commonly take into consideration, among other things, consumer price movements during the term of expiring agreements, and frequently some judgment as to the prospects for price movements in the future as well. Employees of our industry cannot reasonably expect to have both escalator agreements and 'catch-up' settlements," Denise said.

Of the UAW's third major proclaimed demand, optional retirement after 30 years' service without regard to age, Denise said only that the proposal "would involve very substantial benefit increases."

Senate Approves Importing Fish

LANSING (AP) — The public scare over mercury contamination in fish reportedly hit hard at the businesses of those who sell fish to the public to put on its dinner table.

In an effort to help those in the fish business affected by the mercury spillage in Lakes St. Clair, Huron and Erie and the St. Clair and Detroit Rivers, the Michigan Senate has approved a bill allowing import of certain fish from neighboring states like Wisconsin.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Wayne Sackett, R-Portage, and passed earlier by the House, was approved 31-0 in the Senate Wednesday and moved toward the governor's desk for signing. In floor discussion of the bill, Sen. Basil Brown, D-Highland Park, told colleagues that without the walleye, and other specified fish, those who sell fish for their living "wouldn't have any business."

The measure provides for the import of fish if they were caught legally in the state from which they come. It requires that the fish be sold in their original containers, from the place of origin, or that vendors have evidence to prove that the fish were taken legally.

"PROBES" VIET — Mrs. Roberta Brimmer looks pleased in Dearborn Heights, Mich., on return from a 3 1/2-day "inspection" tour in South Vietnam. She became concerned because her son Edward, 19, is in the Navy there. She went to see for herself, and toured a number of installations including Dong Tam.

Police Round Up Kidnaping Case Suspects

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Police are rounding up suspects in the kidnaping of West German Ambassador Ehrenfried von Holleben, who says his abductors never removed their masks and kept him in one room during his five days of captivity.

Arrests were reported throughout the city Wednesday, but there was no reliable estimate of the number. Reports told of a student leader arrested in one part of Rio, a former opposition politician in another, and a lifeguard at the Copacabana beach.

The 61-year-old ambassador told a news conference Wednesday night that the kidnapers seized him from his car, chloroformed him into unconsciousness, and put him into a large box so he could not see where he was being taken. They did not let him out, he said, until he reached the room where he was held hostage.

Nine young men and a woman with submachine guns intercepted von Holleben's car last Thursday night, killing one of his Brazilian security guards and wounding the other two. They kept him until after 40 political prisoners were flown to Algiers as ransom, then freed him Tuesday night on a Rio street.

The abductors identified themselves in leaflets as members of the Popular Revolutionary Vanguard, an underground leftist group opposed to Brazil's military regime.

Downstate River Most Polluted

YPSILANTI (AP) — The Huron River has the highest mercury contamination of any inland river in Michigan, according to John Hesse of the Michigan Water Resources Commission.

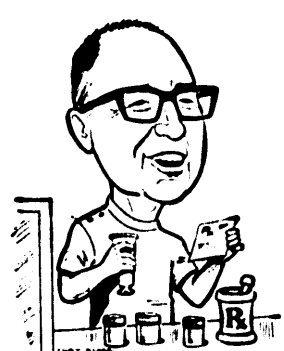

The potentially poisonous mercury was found in samples of fish and bottom sediments from the Huron in recent tests by research scientists from the State Natural Resources Department, Hesse said.

Tests of the Huron River, which empties into Lake Erie and which is used frequently by sports fishermen, detected .75 parts per million of mercury, he said.

Samples of Lake St. Clair showed five ppm while two ppm were reported in fish in Lake Erie.

BEHIND the COUNTER

Bob Krohmer

As medical science progresses, we are learning much better ways to provide first-aid treatment for burns, cuts and poisonings. Unfortunately, not all textbooks have been revised yet, and many first aid instructors haven't learned the newer concepts of treatment.

For example, it was once taught that the best treatment for a burn was to cover the area with a baking soda solution, butter, or an ointment to keep the air out. This may still work if you just burn your fingertip, but the newer treatment is immersion of the burned area in cold water — not ice cold, but below room temperature.

Quickly submerge the burned area, and keep it under water until it can be taken out without pain. Or apply a series of cold packs to the burn, changing them steadily. But if the burn is severe, don't even waste time with these measures. Speed the patient to a hospital. The doctors there would rather treat the burn without having to remove non-sterile components and other compounds.

Open wounds shouldn't be covered with an antiseptic, but should be gently washed out with soap and water which cleans out the wound and isn't harmful. The same can't be said even of the familiar iodine that's been in your medicine cabinet too long; when the alcohol evaporates from that solution, the residue can harm living tissue.

We strongly support those in our community who provide first aid treatment, and sympathize with the difficulties they have in keeping abreast of new medical advice. If you haven't taken such a course in several years, it might be wise for you to "brush up" and be brought up-to-date on these new therapies.

Total Desegregation 'Scares' Justice Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has backed away—at least temporarily—from a crucial test of the Nixon administration's determination to push for near total school desegregation in the South by this fall.

Faced with more than a score of segregated Mississippi districts that have so far resisted administration blandishments to desegregate voluntarily, the department has held off taking state officials to court to force an end to their dual school systems.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Jerris Leonard, chief of the department's civil rights division, acknowledged Wednesday he is giving the holdout Mississippi districts more time to come around before filing a threatened statewide desegregation suit.

"Things are looking good," Leonard said of efforts by a special Nixon administration negotiation team that spent Monday and Tuesday in Jackson, Miss., talking to school district officials.

The confidence in Mississippi officials marks an apparent change of heart by Leonard, who last week seemed determined to press ahead with the second statewide suit ever filed by the government if 15 or more Mississippi districts still resisted by the end of the negotiating session.

"The arbitrary figure is 15," Leonard said in an interview last week. "If it is less, we can handle them on an individual basis; if it is more, we will probably have to bring a statewide suit."

Sources in the Justice Department and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, both present at the closed door negotiations in Jackson, said the number of holdout districts ended up at 23.

Leonard had said prior to the negotiations his decision on filing the statewide suit would be made on Tuesday.

The decision to file such a suit, however, must be cleared by Leonard's boss, Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, Mitchell, President Nixon's 1968 campaign manager, is said by sources in the Justice Department to be determined to avoid such a massive show of force in the South.

Mitchell feels, the sources said, the administration's best course is to push for voluntary desegregation through a Cabinet panel headed by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

The attorney general told reporters recently the Cabinet committee had experienced "measurable success" in talking recalcitrant districts into voluntary action.

The first statewide desegregation suit was filed more than a year ago against Georgia. Since then all but a few school districts in that state have submitted acceptable plans for desegregating this fall.

Utility Rate Hike Measure At Vote Stage

LANSING (AP) — A complex and controversial bill dealing with the methods for boosting gas, electric and telephone rates has been moved into position for a final vote in the Michigan Senate.

Pushed up on the senate calendar Wednesday, the bill sponsored by Sen. Roger Craig, D-Dearborn, would allow utilities to hike their rates to the amount they have requested if the State Public Service Commission fails to act on their increase requests within 10 months.

Utilities could adjust their rates within six months if they were to be decreased.

The bill, as amended Wednesday, also would provide that once the commission made its recommendation on rate increases — or decreases — the firms could collect only that amount during any appeal on the decision.

Appeals would, under the bill, be made directly to the State Appeals Court.

Current law provides for such appeals to go through the circuit courts, a process which Craig called "a waste of time and waste of the people's money."

Current law further provides that, generally, utility rates shall not be increased without an affirmative finding and decision by the commission that a rate increase is justified.

Sen. Sander Levin, D-Berkley, said the commission may currently authorize "interim" increases. That process has only been used once in recent times, he added.

In an analysis of the bill released before senate adoption of the amendments Wednesday, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley called provisions for automatic utility increases "unwise and a long step backwards."

Evacuate Families After Gas Leakage

ST. CLAIR (AP) — About 20 families had to be evacuated from their homes for the second time in 10 days when a leak developed in a gas well in nearby China Township Wednesday.

A spokesman for Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. said the Otis Engineering Co. of Dallas, Tex., was installing a new safety device on the well—one of 16 in the field—and the plugging operation "failed somehow and so gas is escaping into the atmosphere."

It was the same well in the firm's Belle River Mills underground gas storage field which developed a gas leak a little over a week ago and had to be repaired.

State Police troopers evacuated families in the area and took them to motels "as a precautionary measure to eliminate any points of possible ignition," the gas company spokesman said.

He said, "We hope to have it closed off" before nightfall.

Youngster Held In Pal's Slaying

DETROIT (AP) — Juvenile authorities are holding a 9-year-old Detroit boy in connection with the knife-slaying Tuesday of a 10-year-old companion.

The two boys were arguing and the younger boy plunged a four-inch steak knife into Ronald Binion's chest, police said. Neighbors rushed Ronald to Kirkwood General Hospital, where he died.

Total Desegregation 'Scares' Justice Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has backed away—at least temporarily—from a crucial test of the Nixon administration's determination to push for near total school desegregation in the South by this fall.

Faced with more than a score of segregated Mississippi districts that have so far resisted administration blandishments to desegregate voluntarily, the department has held off taking state officials to court to force an end to their dual school systems.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Jerris Leonard, chief of the department's civil rights division, acknowledged Wednesday he is giving the holdout Mississippi districts more time to come around before filing a threatened statewide desegregation suit.

"Things are looking good," Leonard said of efforts by a special Nixon administration negotiation team that spent Monday and Tuesday in Jackson, Miss., talking to school district officials.

The confidence in Mississippi officials marks an apparent change of heart by Leonard, who last week seemed determined to press ahead with the second statewide suit ever filed by the government if 15 or more Mississippi districts still resisted by the end of the negotiating session.

"The arbitrary figure is 15," Leonard said in an interview last week. "If it is less, we can handle them on an individual basis; if it is more, we will probably have to bring a statewide suit."

Sources in the Justice Department and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, both present at the closed door negotiations in Jackson, said the number of holdout districts ended up at 23.

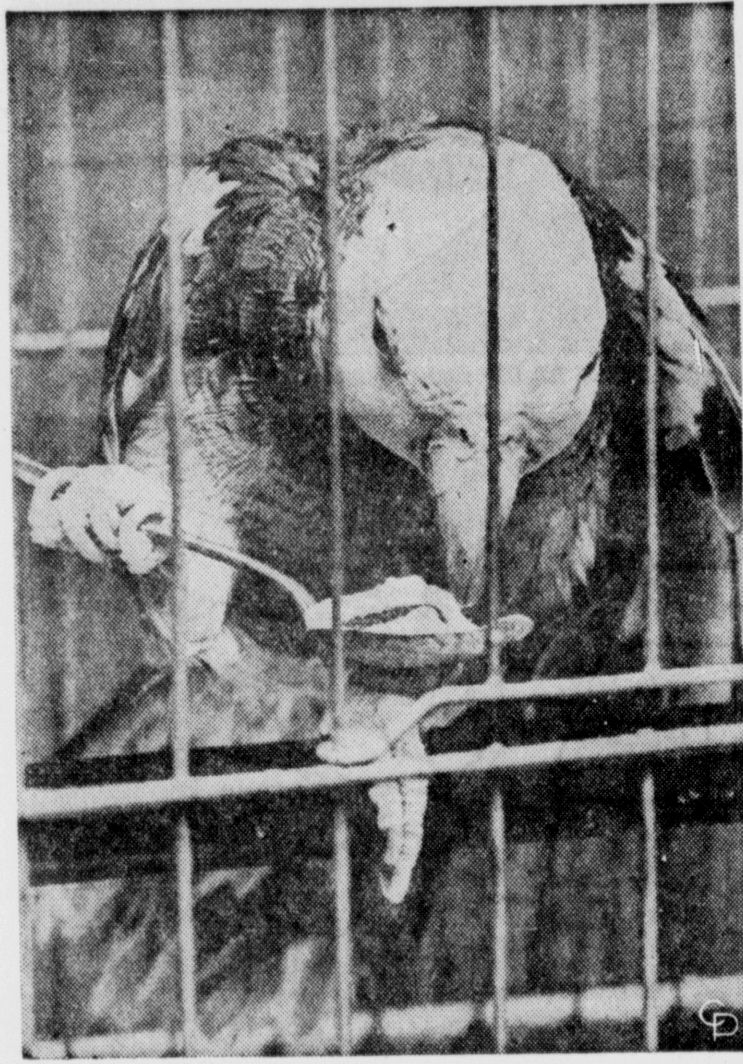

Leonard had said prior to the negotiations his decision on filing the statewide suit would be made on Tuesday.

The decision to file such a suit, however, must be cleared by Leonard's boss, Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell. Mitchell, President Nixon's 1968 campaign manager, is said by sources in the Justice Department to be determined to avoid such a massive show of force in the South.

Minister Strives To Spread Love In His Shopping Center Church

SHOPPING CENTER MINISTER — Lyndon Whybrew's "church" is a three-block-long two-story shopping mall that's become a kind of town square for lonely old people and alienated youths.

By JACQUELINE SNYDER
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Lyndon Whybrew is a young minister whose "church" is a three-block-long shopping mall that's become a gathering place for people with problems.

"The alienated young people come here to get away from pressures at home and at school; the aged come because it's a nice place to walk and sit on a park bench; people with family problems come here to forget," says Whybrew, whose "church" is financed by 20 churches and synagogues in the upper middle class area around the shopping center.

"Those churches realized that the mall was absorbing the problems of the suburban community," Whybrew explained. "They believe they have an obligation and responsibility to help people—even if those people reject religion."

The minister is helped by some 50 volunteers who both man an information booth in the center of the mall and know where to send people for any kind of help they need.

"They're also there to talk or listen if someone needs them," Whybrew said. "You'd be surprised how the same lonely people keep coming back at the same time every week just to talk with one of the ladies at the information booth."

The Ministry in the Mall also sponsors a coffee house in the center's community room each Saturday night. "It's for any kids who want to come," Whybrew says. "Sometimes it's great—kids play guitars and sing together and really talk. Other times it's like a mental ward—everyone just stares at the walls."

"We don't have any set programs," he continued. "These aren't organized kids—they don't like regimentation. What we're saying to them is, 'Instead of throwing a brick through a window, why don't you produce some kind of positive expression of your feelings—like why don't you put it down on film or in a song.'"

Whybrew says that although most of the kids who come to the mall are experimenting with drugs he doesn't scold them. Instead he tries to find out why they want to escape from reality.

The minister thinks his work is necessary because there has been a loss of community feeling. "People have more mobility today. Families are disintegrating. People don't live close to their relatives. We're trying to find a substitute for the loss," he said.

Although Whybrew is an ordained Presbyterian minister he says he prefers to think of himself as an "anonymous clergyman." He doesn't preach and he doesn't offer advice unless people ask for it. "We want to tell people that there are people who care about them. It's not a rice-type religion; it's not like we'll give you food if you'll be a Christian. We simply want to exude love and create an atmosphere of understanding."

This way, the young minister says, people can come to him without feeling they have any commitment to a church. Those who need help can shop for it—informally and anonymously.

Seattle Man Rents Fire Departments

SEATTLE (AP)—As a child, Leonard Aaron always wanted to be a fireman because, he says, "for blacks in ghettos, firemen are the only people who come into the area to really help."

Now 27, Aaron has expanded his dream: he rents fire departments.

Aaron is president of West Coast Fire Service, Inc., a Seattle-based organization which sets up and operates fire departments under contract with commercial and government installations.

"In the space of 30 to 90 days we could establish a 200-man fire department anywhere in the world," Aaron says.

The company, founded last June, operates a 21-man fire team for the Atomic Energy Commission on Amchitka Island in Alaska's Aleutian chain, its only contract so far. Amchitka is an AEC nuclear testing site.

Faced with the staggering failure statistics of new businesses, the company is "taking it slow," Aaron says, and is studying possible future contracts carefully.

Aaron grew up in a St. Louis ghetto with "welfare checks and all," he says, until he joined the Marines. Then while working for the Amchitka Fire Department for 18 months under a minority hiring program, he decided he could provide the service better than his employers. So with personal savings, bank capital and a group of fire protection experts, Aaron started renting.

Many people, Aaron believes, went out on a limb to support the company because it represented black capitalism.

However, race is not the major factor in the company's hiring and training programs, Aaron says. The training program, he says, is geared more to disadvantaged persons, those with limitations in their education, economic, or cultural backgrounds.

"If the individual demonstrates leadership qualities and aptitude, even if he has a limited educational background, he deserves the chance to try," Aaron says.

After graduating from college, Aaron joined the Seattle Urban League, a minority-aid organization. The league later participated in the company's training and hiring programs, but Aaron doesn't think minority hiring requirements such as those set by the federal government should be enforced rigidly.

"If I hire an unemployed Virginia miner who has five kids to support," Aaron says, "I think I'm doing just as much good as if I'd hired a ghetto dropout with no dependents."

The company operates the Amchitka department under a $550,000 yearly contract. Aaron says he thinks it is the first time that the AEC has subcontracted with a company specializing in fire prevention. Previously, he says, the AEC contracted with one firm to operate the entire installation. The company in turn would develop its own fire department as part of the total operation, he says.

The company currently offers fire risk analysis and consultation, control program development, control system design, equipment specifications, fire-fighting teams, and inspection and consultation programs.

Aaron said the company is considering offering a fire insurance rating service. About every five years cities are being rated to evaluate fire fighting capabilities and the extent of fire insurance carried by citizens.

Aaron says the company is succeeding. All you need, he says, is "contacts with the right people, luck, and intestinal fortitude from beginning to end."

Policeman Shot In City Battle

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit policeman was listed in critical condition today at Henry Ford Hospital after an exchange of gunfire in which one man was fatally wounded in Detroit's inner city.

The wounded patrolman was identified as James Wright, 35. The dead man was identified by police as George Daniel Wilson, 65.

Two other officers were reported injured in a traffic accident on their way to assist the officers along with Wright.

Police said Wright was one of three plainclothesmen who answered a report that there was an armed robbery suspect at a three story apartment complex. The other two officers, Daniel O'Mera and Gerald Riley, said Wilson was alone in the room when they knocked on the door and announced themselves as police officers. Wilson reportedly opened the door and then fired a shotgun through the doorway wounding Wright in the abdomen. Riley and O'Mera returned the fire and struck Wilson in the left chest.

Patrolmen Robert Pelotte and David Org, both 23, were listed in serious condition after their car was involved in a broadside collision as they rushed to give assistance to the other officers.

Police said the two officers' patrol car struck another auto on Twelfth Street near a freeway service road. Three persons in the other car were not reported injured seriously.

Michigan Power Gives Ontonagon Gas Line Okay

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Power Co. of Three Rivers has been given authority by the State Public Service Commission to build a 20-mile natural gas pipeline in Ontonagon County from White Pine to Ontonagon. It will provide gas service to several small communities along the route as well as Ontonagon and Ontonagon Township. Also approved was the construction of a small pipeline by Michigan Gas Utilities Co. of Monroe to service a glass manufacturing plant in Ash Township and residents of the area.

Low Timber Sales Blamed On Rains, Nation's Economy

MARQUETTE (AP)—A slowdown in the nation's economy and heavy rains are being blamed by state foresters for declining timber sales from the woods of the Upper Peninsula.

The foresters said June's receipts from sales of timber are down sharply from those of May. But they predicted the slowdown is only temporary and said sales should pick up later this summer.

Many a drunk driver will go out of his way for you.

It's not hard to see how each year, problem drinkers are involved in killing at least 25,000 of us on our highways. When people lose control drinking, they often lose control driving.

But what is hard to see is why we keep letting them. Many problem drinkers need to be helped. But first, they need to be taken off the road. Sooner or later, it has to happen. Make it sooner. ## Cicero School Told To Admit Black Students

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Timothy Christian School in Cicero, Ill., has been ordered by the Christian Reformed Church Synod to admit black children "without further delay."

Synod delegates issued an order Tuesday night to the denomination's Classis Chicago North to make sure Negro children are admitted to the Cicero school.

After four hours of debate, the Synod declared the Classis has violated the Synod's declarations on race.

The Classis was ordered to tell the Timothy board to follow the Synod's instructions without delay. If the Classis fails to act, the Synod said it will be considered "in contempt of Synod and in open disregard of the judgment of the Church of Jesus Christ."

Under the action, the Timothy School Board is to permit black children from nearby Lawndale Christian Reformed Church to enroll in the Timothy Elementary School.

For years, parents from the Lawndale church have tried to enroll their children at the school. But the school board has refused to admit them on grounds Cicero has many "racist" citizens and there might be bloodshed if black children are brought into the city.

The board has allowed black pupils to attend its high school in Elmhurst, Ill., where it says there is less racial tension.

Landlord, 8, Put Out Of Business

MUSKEGON (AP) — An 8-year-old landlord has been put out of business by Muskegon police in a roundup which may have cleared up several crimes. Officers said Clifford Dobben called them to report he had captured a boy he found inside a house he owns. The captured 13-year-old led officers to five other youths, ranging from eight to 10 years old.

An 8-year-old told officers he organized the group and was charging the other boys five cents per week rent for use of the house they had broken into. Police said the boys admitted a burglary, breaking a window, throwing stones at cars, shoplifting and stealing a woman's purse. All six were referred to juvenile court.

Economists Wishing Harder Than They Reason, Belief

By JOHN CUNIFF
NEW YORK (AP) — As President Nixon addressed the nation on his economic policy, a feeling of imminent success in the battle against inflation was being expressed by some pro-administration economists.

They noted, as did the administration's chief economic adviser, Paul McCracken, that some slight slowing in the rate of increase had developed in whole-sale food prices. And wasn't there a hint that wage increases were slowing too?

Look To Brighter Side
It wasn't the first time that they looked for the brighter side of things. For months they talked about a turnaround, but it didn't come. Like other people, economists sometimes wish harder than they reason.

They had their more pessimistic counterparts also, and it is from among these, such as Prof. John Kenneth Galbraith, that the pressure arose for a more aggressive policy.

The Nixon people, however, carefully avoided becoming committed to any policy of direct intervention in the market place. Controls, it was said, were too strong; guideposts too weak.

Opposition Firm
As late as a couple of months ago the opposition to a more aggressive policy was firm within the administration. It fully expected that tightening of the money supply by the Federal Reserve, and restraints on consumer, business and government spending, would reduce inflation.

If the administration was becoming less certain of its methods, then it is safe to infer that millions of Americans became less certain also.

Outside the administration, the chorus of demands for some form of restraints on wages, prices and credit—including study commissions, voluntary controls, guideposts and rigid controls—began to rise, perhaps motivated in some instances by political considerations.

It was argued that what policy could be more in the American tradition than to mobilize the conscience of business, labor and consumers to eradicate the disease of inflation that was threatening the nation's economic health.

Eye Aggressive Policy
The argument for a more aggressive policy suggested that businessmen and labor union officials caught in such a dilemma needed some device to take the pressure off them. Guideposts, perhaps?

The problems were becoming too obvious to the American people for the President to ignore. It didn't take any poll to realize that the desire was growing among Americans for a statement of administration policy.

Seeks Re-Election
LANSING (AP) — Rep. James Farnsworth, R-Plainwell, ranking Republican on the House Appropriations Committee, announced Wednesday that he would seek re-election to the legislative seat he has held since 1962.

Applauds Bill
WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Interior Committee approved today 22-2 a bill to establish the Apostle Islands National Lakeshore in northern Wisconsin.

The Senate passed a similar bill June 26, 1969. However, the House version provides that no land held in trust by the United States for either the Red Cliff Band or Bad River Band of Lake Superior Chippewa Indians shall be included within the lakeshore limits.

The Apostle Islands National Lakeshore would include 21 islands in Lake Superior in addition to land on the mainland. Under the Senate bill, the cost of the lakeshore project would be $6,600,000 for land and $8,257,700 for development.

However, the House bill would limit the cost of land acquisition to $4,250,000 and the cost of development to $5 million.

Many of the Indians had objected to inclusion of their land within the lakeshore area. The House measure would exclude such land.

Rep. Roy A. Taylor, D-N.C., who offered the amendment to exclude the Indian land, said the Indians would benefit if the bill were passed.

Defense Lawyer In Chicago Trial Fined By Judge
CHICAGO (AP) — A defense lawyer in the recent trial of 10 persons convicted of burning draft records were fined $1,000 today on two counts of criminal contempt in U.S. District Court.

Judge Edwin A. Robson said that the lawyer, Frank W. Oliver, "persisted in unprofessional and improper conduct" during the trial.

Oliver replied: "I am singularly unmoved by the court's order. The penalty Your Honor will impose will be imposed on all lawyers who defend unpopular causes."

Judge Robson specifically said Oliver was guilty of criminal contempt June 1 when he showed to a witness a photograph of the draft board office and asked: "Do you see the sign, 'Abandon Hope All Ye Who Enter Here:'"

The question was followed by laughter and Judge Robson ordered the courtroom cleared. Oliver admitted to the judge that the quotation, which refers to hell in Dante's Inferno, did not appear in the photograph.

The judge also specified Oliver's remarks during final arguments when he said the lawyer, "repeatedly referred to evidence that the court had ruled inadmissible."

Cicero School Told To Admit Black Students

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Timothy Christian School in Cicero, Ill., has been ordered by the Christian Reformed Church Synod to admit black children "without further delay."

Synod delegates issued an order Tuesday night to the denomination's Classis Chicago North to make sure Negro children are admitted to the Cicero school.

After four hours of debate, the Synod declared the Classis has violated the Synod's declarations on race.

The Classis was ordered to tell the Timothy board to follow the Synod's instructions without delay. If the Classis fails to act, the Synod said it will be considered "in contempt of Synod and in open disregard of the judgment of the Church of Jesus Christ."

Under the action, the Timothy School Board is to permit black children from nearby Lawndale Christian Reformed Church to enroll in the Timothy Elementary School.

For years, parents from the Lawndale church have tried to enroll their children at the school. But the school board has refused to admit them on grounds Cicero has many "racist" citizens and there might be bloodshed if black children are brought into the city.

The board has allowed black pupils to attend its high school in Elmhurst, Ill., where it says there is less racial tension.

Candles haven't always been King Alfred ordered the manufacture of time-keeping candles, six of them sized to burn in 24 hours. In both England and the American colonies, the saying "sale by the inch of a candle" signified an auction where people could bid until a length of candle burned out.

Landlord, 8, Put Out Of Business

MUSKEGON (AP) — An 8-year-old landlord has been put out of business by Muskegon police in a roundup which may have cleared up several crimes.

Officers said Clifford Dobben called them to report he had captured a boy he found inside a house he owns. The captured 13-year-old led officers to five other youths, ranging from eight to 10 years old.

An 8-year-old told officers he organized the group and was charging the other boys five cents per week rent for use of the house they had broken into. Police said the boys admitted a burglary, breaking a window, throwing stones at cars, shoplifting and stealing a woman's purse. All six were referred to juvenile court.

Economists Wishing Harder Than They Reason, Belief

By JOHN CUNIFF
NEW YORK (AP) — As President Nixon addressed the nation on his economic policy, a feeling of imminent success in the battle against inflation was being expressed by some pro-administration economists.

Apostle Islands Bill Approved By House Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Interior Committee approved today 22-2 a bill to establish the Apostle Islands National Lakeshore in northern Wisconsin.

The Senate passed a similar bill June 26, 1969.

However, the House version provides that no land held in trust by the United States for either the Red Cliff Band or Bad River Band of Lake Superior Chippewa Indians shall be included within the lakeshore limits.

The Apostle Islands National Lakeshore would include 21 islands in Lake Superior in addition to land on the mainland.

Under the Senate bill, the cost of the lakeshore project would be $6,600,000 for land and $8,257,700 for development.

However, the House bill would limit the cost of land acquisition to $4,250,000 and the cost of development to $5 million.

Many of the Indians had objected to inclusion of their land within the lakeshore area. The House measure would exclude such land.

Rep. Roy A. Taylor, D-N.C., who offered the amendment to exclude the Indian land, said the Indians would benefit if the bill were passed.

Defense Lawyer In Chicago Trial Fined By Judge

CHICAGO (AP) — A defense lawyer in the recent trial of 10 persons convicted of burning draft records were fined $1,000 today on two counts of criminal contempt in U.S. District Court. Judge Edwin A. Robson said that the lawyer, Frank W. Oliver, "persisted in unprofessional and improper conduct" during the trial.

Oliver replied: "I am singularly unmoved by the court's order... The penalty Your Honor will impose will be imposed on all lawyers who defend unpopular causes."

Judge Robson specifically said Oliver was guilty of criminal contempt June 1 when he showed to a witness a photograph of the draft board office and asked: "Do you see the sign, 'Abandon Hope All Ye Who Enter Here:'"

The question was followed by laughter and Judge Robson ordered the courtroom cleared. Oliver admitted to the judge that the quotation, which refers to hell in Dante's Inferno, did not appear in the photograph.

The judge also specified Oliver's remarks during final arguments when he said the lawyer, "repeatedly referred to evidence that the court had ruled inadmissible."

er, Paul McCracken, that some slight slowing in the rate of increase had developed in wholesale food prices. And wasn't there a hint that wage increases were slowing too?

Look To Brighter Side

It wasn't the first time that they looked for the brighter side of things. For months they talked about a turnaround, but it didn't come. Like other people, economists sometimes wish harder than they reason.

They had their more pessimistic counterparts also, and it is from among these, such as Prof. John Kenneth Galbraith, that the pressure arose for a more aggressive policy. The Nixon people, however, carefully avoided becoming committed to any policy of direct intervention in the market place. Controls, it was said, were too strong; guideposts too weak.

Opposition Firm

As late as a couple of months ago the opposition to a more aggressive policy was firm within the administration. It fully expected that tightening of the money supply by the Federal Reserve, and restraints on consumer, business and government spending, would reduce inflation.

The absolute opposition to more direct action began to crack sometime within the past six or eight weeks when administration members, speaking for themselves, showed they were having second thoughts.

People Less Certain

If the administration was becoming less certain of its methods, then it is safe to infer that millions of Americans became less certain also.

Outside the administration, the chorus of demands for some form of restraints on wages, prices and credit—including study commissions, voluntary controls, guideposts and rigid controls—began to rise, perhaps motivated in some instances by political considerations.

It was argued that what policy could be more in the American tradition than to mobilize the conscience of business, labor and consumers to eradicate the disease of inflation that was threatening the nation's economic health.

Eye Aggressive Policy

The argument for a more aggressive policy suggested that businessmen and labor union officials caught in such a dilemma needed some device to take the pressure off them. Guideposts, perhaps?

The problems were becoming too obvious to the American people for the President to ignore. It didn't take any poll to realize that the desire was growing among Americans for a statement of administration policy.

Seeks Re-Election

LANSING (AP) — Rep. James Farnsworth, R-Plainwell, ranking Republican on the House Appropriations Committee, announced Wednesday that he would seek re-election to the legislative seat he has held since 1962.

Fierce Weather Hits Lower State Regions

DETROIT (AP) — Fierce weather drubbed southeastern Michigan with rain, hail, and high winds, and at least three tornado sightings were reported Wednesday and today, police said.

Rainstorms left impassable wells of water in low-lying areas of Detroit while gusty winds snapped power lines in some suburbs.

One tornado reportedly uprooted trees and tore down fences in Hell, a tiny Livingston County village, early today. Another was seen near Nine Mile and Coolidge in suburban Berkley Wednesday.

A third tornado sighting was between Carlton and Flat Rock, according to the Detroit Weather Bureau.

Interim Board Has Candidates

POWERS—Three candidates were recommended by the Menominee County Intermediate School Board at its meeting in Evergreen School Tuesday evening to fill the vacancy on the Interim Board of the newly-consolidated district of Powers, Spalding and Hermansville.

A vacancy was created Monday by the resignation of Elmer Pipkorn.

Persons recommended by the intermediate board are Victor Aerts, who resides in the Powers-Spalding area and is a former school board member; Roger Stebbins, who lives in the LaBranche area of Spalding Township and is also a former board member, and Theodore Dault of Powers, who has served on the powers council.

It was pointed out by Herbert Corey of Stephenson, president of the intermediate board, that the interim board requested such a recommendation.

Corey explained that the interim board has no authority to make an appointment but because the interim board had requested assistance, three candidates were suggested. It was also noted that if the interim board does not make a selection within 20 days, the intermediate board will have the power to make the appointment.

The intermediate board president said that if it chooses, may refuse all the candidates recommended.

Indians To Get Funeral Funds

WASHINGTON D. C. — Two Office of Economic Opportunity grants for northern Michigan totaling $106,342 were announced today by Congressman Philip Ruppe.

One grant, $62,711, is being made to the Inter-Tribal Council of Michigan to provide supplemental money for the conduct of emergency food and medical services and economic development programs for Indians in Menominee, Baraga, Chippewa and Isabella counties. The director of the Indian community action program is Mark Perrault, L'Anse, and the supplemental grant is to be used over a 10-month period.

A $44,131 grant for special summer programs is being made by OEO to the Baraga-Houghton-Keweenaw Community Action Agency.

Queen Contest Closes July 15

If you're a young lady and between the ages of 16 and 23, you've already met two of the qualifications for the Upper Peninsula State Fair Queen contest.

Applications for contestants are now available.

Contestants must be single, between the ages of 16 and 23, a resident of the community she represents and have been selected queen or representative of some local event in her community.

Complete information on all contest rules, regulations, registration and schedules may be obtained by contacting Mrs. John Greis, 1414 S. 14th St., Escanaba, telephone 786-0539. Queen's Day is Thursday, Aug. 20, with activities in the afternoon and evening.

Again this year, a Bay de Noc Community College scholarship will be awarded to the queen, plus a trophy and a $100 U. S. Savings Bond. First and second runnersup will each receive $50 savings bonds. Each of the young ladies in the contest will receive a gift.

Local service organizations, veterans or sports clubs and civic groups sponsoring individual contests are urged to enter their queen as a candidate in the 1970 contest, said Mrs. Greis. Deadline for entries is July 15.

Kathy Madden of Gladstone, the 1969 Upper Peninsula State Fair Queen, will crown the new queen on Thursday, Aug. 20, after the final competition in front of the grandstand.

Inflation Rated Worst In Past Twenty Years

Prices are obtained by personal visit to a representative sample of about 18,000 retail stores and service establishments where wage and clerical workers buy goods and services, including among the establishments grocery stores, department and specialty stores, restaurants, professional people, and repair and service shops. Rental rates are obtained from about 40,000 tenants," the bureau said.

The field samples are mailed to the bureau's Washington office, where Louis B. Woytych's Division of Data Collection handles it.

Many of the bureau's 200 clerical and statistical experts then pore through the stacks of raw data and prepare it for feeding into a computer for the final compilation of the price figures.

The final figures are closely guarded until Popkin announces and analyzes them for newsmen at a scheduled news conference every month.

"The Consumer Price Index is used widely to guide family budgeting and to understand what is happening to family finances," the bureau said.

"It is used extensively in labor-management contracts to adjust wages. Automatic adjustments based on changes in the index are incorporated in some wage contracts and in a variety of other types of contracts, such as long-term leases," it added.

"In addition, the CPI is used as a measure of changes in the purchasing power of the dollar for such diverse purposes as adjusting royalties, pensions, welfare payments, and occasionally alimony payments," the bureau said.

"It is also used widely as a reflection of inflationary or deflationary trends in the economy," it said.

Popkin got the criticism the reports do get occasionally are usually based on estimates of quality changes in products, which the bureau constantly reviews and adjusts. A current study is testing new methods of determining the quality of housing to adjust rental estimates.

"The sampling error is determined to be quite small," Popkin said. "Our conclusion is that, on balance, for commodities there is no reason to suspect any bias in the index."

In other words, Popkin believes his statisticians are doing an accurate job of telling you exactly how painful inflation is and pinpointing where it hurts your pocketbook most.

Cambodia Pullout Promise Not Kept

the time was using a figure of 20,000.

Pentagon spokesman Jerry W. Friedheim sought to clear up this apparent discrepancy by explaining the following day that the 31,000 figure used by the President represented the total number of U.S. troops who had been in Cambodia since the start of the Cambodian incursion.

"At no single time had more than 20,000 troops been involved across the border," Friedheim explained.

Onaway Man Seeking 37th Senatorial Seat

A Northern Michigan University department head and an Onaway man will seek seats in the Michigan Senate.

Russell M. Lee of Onaway is unopposed for the Democratic nomination in the 37th Senatorial District. He will oppose the winner of the Republican primary between Rep. Robert W. Davis of St. Ignace and Frank Heselson of Sault Ste. Marie.

The seat is being vacated by Sen. Thomas Schweigert, Peetoskey Republican who is presently acting lieutenant governor.

Dr. Miodrag Georgevich, head of the political science department of Northern Michigan University, has filed on the Republican ticket for the office of state senator from the 38th district and will oppose incumbent Joseph S. Mack (D-Ironwood) in the general election in November.

Both will be nominated without opposition in November.

Mack has served in the Senate since 1965. Previously, he served two terms in the House of Representatives.

Georgevich, a member of the NMU faculty, since 1958, is entering the political field for the first time. He is recognized as a specialist in international politics and political theory and only this year received a Doctor of Philosophy degree in political science from the University of Michigan.

Ten In Race

Ten Republicans and one Democrat will be seeking the 106th District House seat which Davis is giving up.

The district is comprised of Mackinac County, part of Chippewa County and all or part of four lower Michigan counties.

Peter C. Johnson, Boyne City, is the lone Democrat in the race.

Seeking the Republican nomination will be William A. Coon, Gaylord; Richard Friske, Charlevoix; Victor S. Kishigo, Petoskey; John D. Kujaewski, Boyne City; Glen W. Law, Jr., St. Ignace; Wendall J. Marzoff, Gaylord; Stanley P. McRae, Mackinac City; Ted F. Miller, Elk Rapids; Gerald O. Olson, East Jordan; and Donald C. Stark, St. Ignace.

Jacobetti Unopposed

As already announced, State Rep. Dominic J. Jacobetti (D-Negaunee) will have no opposition for reelection as representative from the 108th district.

Other House of Representatives contests in Upper Peninsula districts are:

107th District — Charles H. Varnum, R, Manistique, incumbent; Michael J. Nelson, D, Escanaba.

There will be no primary race for the 11th District Congressional seat. Congressman Philip Ruppe (R-Houghton) will be opposed by Democrat Nino Green, Gladstone, in November.

BUDNY — At 9:06 p.m. on June 17, a son, James Robert, weighing 7 pounds and 11 ounces, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Budney of Escanaba, Mounted Rte. Mrs. Budney was Lynn Erickson.

BONIFAS — Mr. and Mrs. James R. Bonifas of 705 Main St., Wells welcomed their first child, a daughter, at 8:03 a.m. on June 18. The infant weighed 7 pounds and 2 ounces at birth and has been named Melissa Lynn. The mother was Linda Lancour.

Lightning Blamed For Store Blaze

Enemy Severs Two Highways In Cambodia

SPRING LAKE (AP) — Fire that may have been caused by lightning gutted a supermarket on Spring Lake's main street early today and officials said damage may total $200,000.

A passing motorist spotted smoke pouring from the John Casemier food market about 11:30 p.m. Ten hours later, firemen were still trying to extinguish the blaze.

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Enemy troops severed two more major highways out of Phnom Penh today, cutting traffic between the threatened capital and Saigon and isolating a large Cambodian force at the military headquarters town of Kompong Cham.

Highway 1, leading to North Vietnam, was cut by Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops about 25 miles south of Phnom Penh, said travelers who tried to use the road.

Potentially more serious was the cutoff on a second highway near Skoun, 38 miles northeast of the capital. This is the only land route to the provincial and regional military headquarters at Kompong Cham, where two Cambodian regiments are based.

In Phnom Penh, the population waited tensely to see if a threatened attack by the enemy would materialize.

Thief Steals Can Of Beer

One can of beer was all that was reported to have been taken during a break-in of a cabin on Sunday night, according to State Police.

Officers said a cabin owned by Melvin Cassell, 720 Superior Ave., Gladstone, located near County Rd. 519 in Bay de Noc Township, was entered through a window after it was broken and unlocked.

If the thief is caught, the beer could prove to be an awfully expensive drink.

Mayors Agree:

Problems Same In Most Cities

DENVER (AP) — Whatever their political affiliation, no matter where they come from, most American mayors of large cities recite a similar litany of woes: unemployment, a growing narcotics problem, race relations and not enough money to better the quality of life in their communities.

The only difference a listener hears while attending the U.S. Conference of Mayors meeting here are opinions on how best to solve their problems.

For instance, 10 mayors were asked the following question: "What is the most serious problem facing your city today and how can it best be solved?"

Here are their answers:

Carl B. Stokes of Cleveland (Democrat): "Unemployment. Obviously I'd like to see a healthy economy which would be able to absorb people in a natural way in finding jobs. In the absence of this being done, I feel there is a responsibility on the government to furnish jobs. There have to be massive public works programs at this time."

Richard C. Lugar of Indianapolis (Republican): "Maintenance of full employment is our basic problem—more so now when the problem is national in scope. If we can reach full employment we will have mobility, people able to afford private housing, and less need for public support. To the extent we do not have full employment, we will have many more problems. Our prime solution is to seek new industry for Indianapolis. We have had help from federal programs, but realistically, there could come a day when we're not so politically favored in Washington and we better have the ability to maintain it on our own."

Wesley Uhlman of Seattle (Democrat): "Our single biggest problem is unemployment, without question. Our economy revolves around the Boeing Company and its employment has gone down from 102,000 last year to 42,000 they tell us by the end of this year."

"It is absolutely necessary to constructively criticize the (Nixon) administration—hopefully in order to change the policy that we have to have some unemployment. I don't agree that it's a healthy thing to have 5 million people unemployed."

Emil Masey, secretary-treasurer of the United Auto Workers dismissed the speech with the idea he wasn't impressed, but I understand the speech did wonders for the flowers and bushes around the White House."

Favorable Comment

Favorable industrial comment came from Leo A. Iacocca, head of Ford's North American automotive operations. "We are pleased," he said, "by the President's emphasis on hastening conversion to a peacetime economy, his commitment to a further reduction in defense spending... and his statement that costs and productivity must be brought into balance in order to achieve stable prices."

Officials emphasized the new devices did not imply any dissatisfaction with current monetary and fiscal restraints. They pointed to Nixon's comment that the government would continue to rely on them, while "supplementing" them with the new measures.

One high official said privately it would be "self-defeating" to criticize individual firms or industries for excessive price increases.

Doctors Fears Cited

"That narrows the problem too much," the sources said. "The public might be alerted to a price increase for flat-rolled steel sheets, but it would miss the fact that 200,000 doctors added $5 to their charge for a house call."

Officials also insisted the battle against inflation is being won and there will be no change in the basic course despite Nixon's admission progress is not fast enough.

Fierce Weather Hits Lower State Regions

DETROIT (AP) — Fierce weather drubbed southeastern Michigan with rain, hail, and high winds, and at least three tornado sightings were reported Wednesday and today, police said.

Rainstorms left impassable wells of water in low-lying areas of Detroit while gusty winds snapped power lines in some suburbs.

One tornado reportedly uprooted trees and tore down fences in Hell, a tiny Livingston County village, early today. Another was seen near Nine Mile and Coolidge in suburban Berkley Wednesday.

A third tornado sighting was between Carlton and Flat Rock, according to the Detroit Weather Bureau.

Interim Board Has Candidates

POWERS—Three candidates were recommended by the Menominee County Intermediate School Board at its meeting in Evergreen School Tuesday evening to fill the vacancy on the Interim Board of the newly-consolidated district of Powers, Spalding and Hermansville.

A vacancy was created Monday by the resignation of Elmer Pipkorn.

Persons recommended by the intermediate board are Victor Aerts, who resides in the Powers-Spalding area and is a former school board member; Roger Stebbins, who lives in the LaBranche area of Spalding Township and is also a former board member, and Theodore Dault of Powers, who has served on the village council.

It was pointed out by Herbert Corey of Stephenson, president of the intermediate board, that the interim board requested such a recommendation.

Corey explained that the intermediate board has no authority to make an appointment but because the interim board had requested assistance, three candidates were suggested. It was also noted that if the interim board does not make a selection within 20 days, the intermediate board will have the power to make the appointment.

The intermediate board president said that the interim board, if it chooses, may refuse all the candidates recommended.

Indians To Get Funeral Funds

WASHINGTON D. C. — Two Office of Economic Opportunity grants for northern Michigan totaling $106,342 were announced today by Congressman Philip Ruppe.

One grant, $62,711, is being made to the Inter-Tribal Council of Michigan to provide supplemental money for the conduct of emergency food and medical services and economic development programs for Indians in Menominee, Baraga, Chippewa and Isabella counties. The director of the Indian community action program is Mark Perrault, L'Anse, and the supplemental grant is to be used over a 10-month period.

A $44,131 grant for special summer programs is being made by OEO to the Baraga-Houghton-Keweenaw Community Action Agency.

Queen Contest Closes July 15

If you're a young lady and between the ages of 16 and 23, you've already met two of the qualifications for the Upper Peninsula State Fair Queen contest.

Applications for contestants are now available.

Contestants must be single, between the ages of 16 and 23, a resident of the community she represents and have been selected queen or representative of some local event in her community.

Complete information on all contest rules, regulations, registration and schedules may be obtained by contacting Mrs. John Greis, 1414 S. 14th St., Escanaba, telephone 786-0539. Queen's Day is Thursday, Aug. 20, with activities in the afternoon and evening.

Again this year, a Bay de Noc Community College scholarship will be awarded to the queen, plus a trophy and a $100 U. S. Savings Bond. First and second runnersup will each receive $50 savings bonds. Each of the young ladies in the contest will receive a gift.

Local service organizations, veterans or sports clubs and civic groups sponsoring individual contests are urged to enter their queen as a candidate in the 1970 contest, said Mrs. Greis. Deadline for entries is July 15.

Kathy Madden of Gladstone, the 1969 Upper Peninsula State Fair Queen, will crown the new queen on Thursday, Aug. 20, after the final competition in front of the grandstand.

Inflation Rated Worst In Past Twenty Years

"Prices are obtained by personal visit to a representative sample of about 18,000 retail stores and service establishments where wage and clerical workers buy goods and services, including among the establishments grocery stores, department and specialty stores, restaurants, professional people, and repair and service shops. Rental rates are obtained from about 40,000 tenants," the bureau said.

The field samples are mailed to the bureau's Washington office, where Louis B. Woytch's Division of Data Collection handles it.

Many of the bureau's 200 clerical and statistical experts then pore through the stacks of raw data and prepare it for feeding into a computer for the final compilation of the price figures.

The final figures are closely guarded until Popkin announces and analyzes them for newsmen at a scheduled news conference every month.

"The Consumer Price Index is used widely to guide family budgeting and to understand what is happening to family finances," the bureau said.

"It is used extensively in labor-management contracts to adjust wages. Automatic adjustments based on changes in the index are incorporated in some wage contracts and in a variety of other types of contracts, such as long-term leases," it added.

"In addition, the CPI is used as a measure of changes in the purchasing power of the dollar for such diverse purposes as adjusting royalties, pensions, welfare payments, and occasionally alimony payments," the bureau said.

"It is also used widely as a reflection of inflationary or deflationary trends in the economy," it said.

Popkin said the criticism the reports do get occasionally are usually based on estimates of quality changes in products, which the bureau constantly reviews and adjusts. A current study is testing new methods of determining the quality of housing to adjust rental estimates.

"The sampling error is determined to be quite small," Popkin said. "Our conclusion is that, on balance, for commodities there is no reason to suspect any bias in the index."

In other words, Popkin believes his statisticians are doing an accurate job of telling you exactly how painful inflation is and pinpointing where it hurts your pocketbook most.

the time was using a figure of 20,000.

Pentagon spokesman Jerry W. Friedheim sought to clear up this apparent discrepancy by explaining the following day that the 31,000 figure used by the President represented the total number of U.S. troops who had been in Cambodia since the start of the Cambodian incursion.

"At no single time had more than 20,000 troops been involved across the border," Friedheim explained.

Mrs. Gloria Moore kept her son Timmy, in stroller out of reach of the bottles as she looked over the collection. (Daily Press Photo)

THERE WAS EVERYTHING from soup to nuts for the large number of bargain hunters that turned out for yesterday's flea market in Escanaba. Mrs. John Pearson is shown seated next to her display during the event, which was typical of many of the stands located along Ludington St. Chamber of Commerce Manager Walter Lewke said: "Based on reports from participants the event was a huge success and plans for an annual flea market have been scheduled." ## Onaway Man Seeking 37th Senatorial Seat

A Northern Michigan University department head and an Onaway man will seek seats in the Michigan Senate.

Russell M. Lee of Onaway is unopposed for the Democratic nomination in the 37th Senatorial District. He will oppose the winner of the Republican primary between Rep. Robert W. Davis of St. Ignace and Frank Heselton of Sault Ste. Marie.

The seat is being vacated by Sen. Thomas Schweigert, Petoskey Republican who is presently acting lieutenant governor.

Dr. Miodrag Georgevich, head of the political science department of Northern Michigan University, has filed on the Republican ticket for the office of state senator from the 38th district and will oppose incumbent Joseph S. Mack (D-Ironwood) in the general election in November.

Both will be nominated without opposition in November.

Mack has served in the Senate since 1965. Previously, he served two terms in the House of Representatives.

Georgevich, a member of the NMU faculty since 1958, is entering the political field for the first time. He is recognized as a specialist in international politics and political theory and only this year received a Doctor of Philosophy degree in political science from the University of Michigan.

Falsies Ruled Out In Women's Track Meets

LONDON (AP) — Girl athletes who breast the finishing tape with padded bras—known as falsies—were given a stern warning today by the women's Amateur Athletic Association.

The association said it was taking measures to end this front running by girls with boosted bras.

"We want to be sure that the real girls not the padded ones win in any tight finish," said Marea Hartman, the secretary of the association.

Miss Hartman said she will be in the dressing rooms at London's Crystal Palace Stadium Friday and Saturday to make sure the ruling is kept in the association's annual championships.

"We think it is high time that built-up curves are ruled out of international women's racing."

"By making a start in our own championships we hope to give a lead for an international ban to include the Olympic Games," she said.

"Some of our flat-chested girls have not been too pleased with some of the photo-finish decisions which have gone against them."

Sprinter Valerie Peat is one athlete who agrees on the importance of that extra fraction of an inch.

She said she would have been second instead of third in last year's European games 200-meter race in Athens if her bust had been bigger.

"I have often said I could have done with a bit more up front," she said.

Pamela Klug, Robert Rice Exchange Vows

The First United Presbyterian Church in Escanaba was the setting Saturday, June 13 for the wedding of Pamela Marie Klug of Wells and Robert Ernest Rice of Greenville, Mich.

The Rev. Philip Lyon officiated at the double ring nuptials at 2:30 p. m. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Lawrence Klug, 104 N. 2nd St., Wells and the late Lawrence E. Klug and parents of the bridegroom are Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Rice, 220 Orange, Greenville.

Organza, Lace

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, E. I. Bisbee of Whitewater, Wis. wore a floor length A-line gown of white organza and Chantilly lace styled with a scalloped lace neckline, lace cuffed Bishop sleeves and a wateau chapel train topped with organza bows and lace appliques.

A lace tiara look headpiece with tiny seed pearl trim secured her waist length triple tiered veil of imported English illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and trailing ivy.

Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. John Lindstrom of Soo Hill. Bridesmaids were Kristine Klug of Battle Creek and Mrs. Herbert Swanson of Chicago, also sisters of the bride and Mrs. Kurt Kickbusch of Mt. Pleasant.

They were attired in floor length gowns of maize organza with fluted lace trim fashioned with bouffant skirts, long full sleeves and Peter Pan collars.

Picture Hats

Large matching picture hats with maize yellow bows and streamers completed their attire and they carried white wicker baskets filled with yellow and white mums, carnations, daisies and ivy.

Serving as best man was Donald Sullivan of Belding and groomsmen were Thomas Blumberg of Mt. Pleasant, William Wise of Greenville and Ralph Hahnenberg of Greenville.

Mothers' Attire

Mrs. Klug wore for her daughter's wedding a bright pink silk blend coat and dress ensemble with matching braid trim and matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother selected a turquoise crepe sleeveless dress with matching accessories and both mothers were presented pink and white corsages. ## Falsies Ruled Out In Women's Track Meets

LONDON (AP) — Girl athletes who breast the finishing tape with padded bras—known as falsies — were given a stern warning today by the women's Amateur Athletic Association.

The association said it was taking measures to end this front running by girls with boosted bras.

"We want to be sure that the real girls not the padded ones win in any tight finish," said Marea Hartman, the secretary of the association.

Miss Hartman said she will be in the dressing rooms at London's Crystal Palace Stadium Friday and Saturday to make sure the ruling is kept in the association's annual championships.

"We think it is high time that built-up curves are ruled out of international women's racing.

"By making a start in our own championships we hope to give a lead for an international ban to include the Olympic Games," she said.

"Some of our flat-chested girls have not been too pleased with some of the photo-finish decisions which have gone against them."

Sprinter Valerie Peat is one athlete who agrees on the importance of that extra fraction of an inch.

She said she would have been second instead of third in last year's European games 200-meter race in Athens if her bust had been bigger.

"I have often said I could have done with a bit more up front," she said.

Pamela Klug, Robert Rice Exchange Vows

The First United Presbyterian Church in Escanaba was the setting Saturday, June 13 for the wedding of Pamela Marie Klug of Wells and Robert Ernest Rice of Greenville, Mich.

The Rev. Philip Lyon officiated at the double ring nuptials at 2:30 p. m. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Lawrence Klug, 104 N. 2nd St., Wells and the late Lawrence E. Klug and parents of the bridegroom are Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Rice, 220 Orange, Greenville.

Organza, Lace

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, E. I. Bisbee of Whitewater, Wis. wore a floor length A-line gown of white organza and Chantilly lace styled with a scalloped lace neckline, lace cuffed Bishop sleeves and a wateau chapel train topped with organza bows and lace appliques.

A lace tiara look headpiece with tiny seed pearl trim secured her waist length triple tiered veil of imported English illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and trailing ivy.

Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. John Lindstrom of Soo Hill. Bridesmaids were Kristine Klug of Battle Creek and Mrs. Herbert Swanson of Chicago, also sisters of the bride and Mrs. Kurt Kickbusch of Mt. Pleasant.

They were attired in floor length gowns of maize organza with fluted lace trim fashioned with bouffant skirts, long full sleeves and Peter Pan collars.

Picture Hats

Large matching picture hats with maize yellow bows and streamers completed their attire and they carried white wicker baskets filled with yellow and white mums, carnations, daisies and ivy.

Serving as best man was Donald Sullivan of Belding and groomsmen were Thomas Blumberg of Mt. Pleasant, William Wise of Greenville and Ralph Hahnenberg of Greenville.

Mothers' Attire

Mrs. Klug wore for her daughter's wedding a bright pink silk blend coat and dress ensemble with matching braid trim and matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother selected a turquoise crepe sleeveless dress with matching accessories and both mothers were presented pink and white corsages. Mrs. Earl Collins, grandmother of the bridegroom, was

Curtis

Mrs. Dee Fritcher and daughter Donna of Flint are spending some time at their home on Big Manistique Lake and visiting friends.

Jack Gearney and son spent several days here at the home of his father, Richard Gearney on South Manistique Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Painter returned to their home here after attending the funeral of a relative at Dearborn.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hartwick visited his mother, Mrs. Agnes Hartwick who is a patient at University Hospital at Ann Arbor.

Isabella Circle Meets Monday

Daughters of Isabella, Trinity Circle 362 will meet for a social Monday at 8 p. m. at the Teamster's Hall. A dessert lunch will be served and cards of the player's choice will be played. Individual table prizes and guest awards will be presented. Guests are welcome to attend.

Mrs. Herbert Barry is chairman for the evening and she will be assisted by the Mesdames, Tom McDonough, George Anderson, Charles Priesler, Donald Sullivan, Francis Boyce, Clarina Garrett, John Cass, William Peron, Miss Mary McDonough and Miss Ruth Ford.

State agriculture inspectors in Kentucky report they found 40 per cent of 26,000 retail packaged items shortweighted during a check of stores and supermarkets. The state now plans regular inspections, plus court action against second offenders.

ANNOUNCEMENT IS MADE by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buckland of 616 N. 8th St., Gladstone of the engagement of their daughter, Vicky Lynn, to David James Rattray, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Rattray, 46 Lavelle St., Noranda, Quebec, Canada. Miss Buckland is a 1969 graduate of Holy Name High School and is employed by the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District. Her fiancé is employed by the Soo Line Railroad. Tonight's Game

6:30 Gladstone vs. Goebels at Memorial Field

Friday's Game

6:30 Trenary vs. Michigan Hotel at Memorial Field

The Escanaba Merchants added to its lead in the Softball League race Wednesday night with a narrow 4-3 win over Trenary, while the other top three teams in the league were being defeated. In the stunning upsets, Flat Rock was defeated by Goebels 9-6, the Escanaba Independents went nine innings to dethrone Gladstone 11-10 and Jolly Rogers nipped Paper Mill 3-1.

The Escanaba Merchants and Trenary went right down to the wire, before the Merchants finally took the game out. Trenary pulled a early 1-0 lead in the second inning, when Roy Aho homered.

The Merchants scored all its runs in the last of the second, when Jim Moran walked, Cliff O'Donnell double and Bill Goodreau and Don Martineau single to give the Merchants a 4-1 lead. Trenary rally back with two in the sixth and also threaten in the last inning before being defeated.

Tony Derkos went all the way on the mound to pick up the victory, while Sonny Pannanen took the loss for Trenary.

The Merchants will return to action Saturday at Gwin in the first round of the Gwin softball tournament when they play Edwards of Iron Mountain at 12:30.

Jolly Rogers scored all of its runs in the second inning and defeating the Papermakers at Memorial Field last night. Jug Borden pitcher for Jolly Rogers, led the inning off on an error while Doot Lancour single and Bob Borden follow with a double scoring both runs and later scored himself on another error by the Papermakers.

Tod Butler, who pitched the first six innings for Paper Mill took the defeat, while Jug Borden picked up the victory for Jolly Rogers, allowing only four hits.

Mammy Borden save the game for Jolly Rogers in the seventh inning when he caught a line drive and turned it into a double-play to end the game.

Jolly Rogers will play an exhibition game Saturday at the Memorial Field at 3 p. m. against the Stambaugh Merchants.

In Gladstone, the Gladstone Merchants, who led 10-5 going into the last inning, couldn't do anything right in the inning, in order to preserve a victory for their pitcher, Cliff Young, who went the full nine innings on the mound.

Independents scored five times in the last inning to tie the game and send it into extra innings. The key hit in the seventh inning was a inside the park homer by Lee Robitaille, which just missed the glove of Gladstone's center fielder Jerry Wiles.

In the last of the ninth, Ken Robitaille was safe on an infield error, Lee Robitaille walked and Wally Schultz was hit by the ball to load the bases with one out. Tom Boyle lined out to the right fielder to score Robitaille and to give the Independents the hard earned victory.

Ben Yagodzinski and Ken Robitaille paced Independents with 2 hits apiece, while Art VanDamme in his first appearance won the mound verdict from Gladstone's Cliff Young. Rick Ebbeson and Dave Ingebritsen had two hits apiece for Gladstone.

In the night cap, Goebels jumped off to a 6-1 lead in the first inning and held off Flat Rock the remaining six innings to register its fourth victory of the season.

John Way and Bob Myrval paced the first inning uprise with each getting doubles. Jim Micheau started on the mound for Flat Rock with help from Bill Smith in the third. Jim Almonroeder went the distance for Goebels and picked up the victory.

John Way led Goebels at the plate with three hits while Tom Pinar had three for three for Flat Rock.

McLain Getting Nervous As Opening Date Nears

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Cocksure Detroit pitcher Denny McLain gets nervous when he thinks of his July 1 return to baseball.

"Tiger Stadium is sold out," he says, "and I hope most of them will be cheering instead of booing. I'll need em."

McLain is entering the final two weeks of his suspension by baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn for associating with unsavory characters. He's physically sound and claims to have learned a lesson.

"This case is closed as of July 1," said McLain at his upper middle class Lakeland home. "You might say I'm being born again. I have profited much by this mistake."

"People say you sometimes have to profit by mistakes," he said, "and boy did I have a doozie."

Weights 5 Lbs Less

McLain weighs 200, five pounds under his 1969 playing weight. He works daily at Lakeland High School and pitches "Like I was in a real game" every third or fourth afternoon.

"Some local college and high school kids have rendered their services and serve as batters for me," said the blond McLain, now 26.

"Did they hit me? Hell, now don't put me on the spot. I'm just worried about getting those big guys out for Detroit."

Somewhere figured out in the Tiger front office that McLain, with luck, could get as many as 24 starts in the last three months of the season. Despite knowing this, Denny won't own up to but one goal.

Wants To Win Pennant

"I just want to help Detroit win the pennant," he said. "It matters little how many I win, but I do hope to prove I'm still as good as in 1968 when I won 31 games."

Manager Mayo Smith called McLain before last night's game in Detroit and they "just talked about general things, nothing special."

Denny has had little contact with his teammates since they worked in spring training at Lakeland.

"Jimmy Price, our No. 2 catcher and the player representative, called me and we talked about things," said McLain. "I've always been well accepted by my Tiger mates and I don't expect it'll be different."

The McLains won't leave for Detroit until "June 30th or the day of the game itself," said Denny. "I don't want too much fuss made over me—interviews and all. I've got to think about pitching."

Sharyn and Denny McLain's rented Detroit home was gobbled up in his financial trouble with federal tax offices, but he said "We've got a place to stay for a couple of months."

McLain's eldest child, four-year-old Kris, starts kindergarten in Lakeland in September. "That's a sign of the times, isn't it?" he said.

Denny said the spring, right through May, seemed "like an eternity." But, "June has breezed by because I've been busy getting ready for the big July 1 start. When I pitch one of my little 'games' here, I go an hour without resting. Jim Handley, a former Detroit farmhand, coaches baseball at Lakeland High and he's helping me out. All the local folks have been great."

The American League season thus far has not surprised McLain much, "except for those damn Yankees, who are close to Baltimore. I didn't think they could go that well with their pitching. Just shows you what can happen when a team gets hot."

McLain says he "would like to think the Tigers can win it, and that's my goal. But, he admits, "there is a helluva lot to make up. But, we can do it. The talent is the same as 1968 when we won it all. We're all just two years older . . . for better or worse."

Simpson's 'Transfer' Could Ignite Warfare

DENVER (AP) — Possible open warfare between the NCAA and the professional American Basketball Association over the Denver Rockets signing a Michigan State star with two years' eligibility left apparently has been averted by league action rejecting the contract.

Less than 24 hours after the Rockets announced they had signed Ralph Simpson as "a hardship case," ABA Commissioner Jack Dolph turned thumbs down.

Dolph said Wednesday in a statement that "if such a contract does in fact exist and is submitted to the commissioner, it would be rejected and a $10,000 fine assessed against the Denver club."

Nothing To Say

Don Ringsby, president and general manager of the Rockets, had announced Simpson's signing with some fanfare Tuesday. But after the commissioner's statement was issued on the first day of the ABA's annual meeting, Ringsby said he would have nothing to say.

However, he gave strong indication the Rockets are not likely to risk the fine by adding, "I am bound by the action of the league at our meeting this morning. I could be fined if I said anything."

Less than a year ago the Rockets signed Spencer Haywood, a University of Detroit star, who like Simpson had completed only his sophomore year. Denver also termed this a hardship situation.

Played Together

Simpson and Haywood played on the same team at Detroit's Pershing High School and the Michigan State player, who averaged 29 points per game for the Spartans last season, said he hoped to play on the same squad again with Haywood. Last March the Rockets tore up Haywood's contract and negotiated a new one for $1.9 million over six years.

Dolph issued his statement in the Simpson case after that

NCAA headquarters in Kansas City has called upon member schools to boycott the ABA. Later, University of Kentucky Coach Adolph Rupp, president of the National Association of Basketball Coaches, announced, "The air is cleared."

Boycott Over

"It's all over," Rupp said, apparently referring to the call for a boycott. "I've had a call from Commissioner Dolph and it's all over with."

The assistant executive director of the NCAA, Arthur Bergstrom, said at Kansas City the collegiate organization would have no further comment immediately. He said "we'll just hold that in abeyance and see what happens regarding Simpson."

Dolph said at a news conference Wednesday night that officials of two ABA clubs had been contacted by a man identifying himself as Simpson. "I'd rather not say what franchises these were and we have no proof it was Simpson who actually made the calls," he said.

Asked about the possibility of court action concerning the Simpson-Rocket contract, Dolph said, "If we have to go to court, we will."

Violates Bylaws

In his statement earlier, Dolph said the Rockets' signing of Simpson "violates provisions of the American Basketball Association bylaws . . . which prohibit any member club from signing players whose college eligibility has not expired."

The commissioner commented to reporters, "If we should reach an agreement on a single expanded league with the NBA (National Basketball League), this kind of mistake could not happen."

He said he doesn't know what effect rejection of the contract will have on Simpson, saying, "That would have to be up to the NCAA."

At the NBA meeting in Atlanta, Commissioner Walter Kennedy said his league's policy is against signing college players until their class has graduated. "Every college has the right to reasonably expect that a player will perform for their team for four years," he said.

Teams Deny

In its call for a boycott, the NCAA urged colleges to deny use of facilities to ABA teams and refuse to allow coaches and scouts to visit athletic departments or watch their teams practice.

The league Wednesday chose Wendell Cherry of the Kentucky Colonels as its new president and gave final approval to Ned Doyle as the new owner of the Miami Floridians.

General managers of the ABA will meet in Salt Lake City in mid-July to study a 1970-71 schedule. Each team again will play 84 regular season games, but Dolph said efforts will be made to shorten the time period.

Ironwood Scene Of Slow Pitch Ball Tourney

The Ironwood Knights of Columbus Council No. 1398, in cooperation with the Ironwood Festival Committee, is sponsoring the Third Annual Ironwood Summer Festival Slow Pitch Softball Tournament.

The tournament dates are July 10, 11, and 12. Local pairings will start play on Friday evening, July 10; out of town pairings will begin play on Saturday morning, July 11, to permit travel time to Ironwood. The finals will be held Sunday afternoon, July 12. All games will be played at Randa Field.

The official 1970 slow pitch rules set up by the "International Joint Rules Committee on Softball" will be used except for the following: All players must be 21 years of age or older; 3 balls will constitute a walk; one swinging strike, one foul, or one called strike will constitute an out; no bunting; no leading off base until the ball is hit; and finally 9 innings will constitute a full game.

Prize money will be based on the number of teams entered. If 16 teams enter, minimum first place money will be $150.

Entry fee will be $35. The deadline for entering is Monday, July 6. The entry fee must be paid by July 6. Rosters showing birth dates must be submitted prior to each team's first game.

Mail entry to Jim Somerville, 639 Lake Avenue, Ironwood, Michigan 49938, Phone: 932-1614; or Anton Bonato, Mount View Road, Ironwood, Michigan 49938, Phone: 932-0872.

The University of New Mexico received its worst defeat against Arizona State in track and field this spring, 87-57. It was the most one-sided loss by the Lobos since Hugh Hackett became coach 11 years ago.

Mead at Kiwanis

The Babe Ruth League found itself in a three way tie today after Insurance surprised the Teamsters 15-1 Tuesday night, handing the Teamsters their first loss of the season. In Wednesday night action, the Bankers broke into the victory column for the first time this season, by defeating Mead 15-1.

Insurance, who led 5-0 going into the fifth inning, scored eight times in the inning to register their third victory of the year. Wayne Schwalbach, who was the leading hitter for Insurance with four hits, had two hits in the fifth inning, one a double with the bases loaded.

Jim Moberg picked up the mound victory, fanning five and giving up six hits, while Tom Ritter took the defeat.

The Bankers only picked up five hits in its victory over Mead, but made the most of 15 walks off the Mead pitching. Richard Miketnac tossed a one hitter for the Bankers in snatching the mound victory.

Miketnac and Tom Suriano paced the Bankers with two hits apiece while Jeff McCloskey had the other hit for the Bankers.

Vicki Beck Takes Highland Women's Honor Wednesday

Vicki Beck paced all scorers in the Highland Golf Club's Ladies League Wednesday, touring the course in 42 on the front nine and 45 on the back nine.

Other low scorers were Elaine Fairchild 47, Elaine Nelson 47, Dorothy Looeden 48-47, Carolyn Nelson 48 and Irene Milkovich 50.

Low putt winners for the day were Vicki Beck, Irene Milkovich, Lois Bittner, Sally Morin, Bernice Robinson, Ethel Manske and Eleanor Bast.

Brewers Ambush Orioles; Yankees Remain Two Out

By The Associated Press

There are few pigeons left in Gene Brabender's coop, but he still has some rare birds in hand . . . the Baltimore Orioles. Brabender, a former Baltimore pitching prospect who has migrated to Milwaukee, shackled his ex-teammates for 6 1-3 innings Wednesday night as the lowly Brewers ambushed the sagging Orioles 5-1.

It was only the second victory for Brabender since April 26 . . . and both have been at Baltimore's expense.

Despite their fourth loss in five games, the Orioles retained a two-game lead in the American League East as the Chicago White Sox cooled off the second place New York Yankees 6-3.

Detroit beat Oakland 9-7; Boston took Kansas City 3-1 and Washington topped Minnesota 3-1 in other AL games. California and Cleveland were rained out.

Mike Hegan's three-run homer and a solo shot by Phil Roof helped Brabender, 3-8 overall, bring his two-year record against Baltimore to 4-2.

The big right-hander, who got relief help from Bob Humphreys in the seventh, was 2-2 against the Orioles while pitching for Seattle last year.

He left the game with a 2-1 lead, built on Roof's homer off Dave McNally in the fifth and a sixth inning sacrifice fly by Dave May, who was making his first start for the Brewers after being dealt to them by the Orioles Tuesday.

Humphreys checked Baltimore the rest of the way and Hegan broke the game open with his seventh inning blast.

Pitcher Jerry Janeski drove in three runs with a single and squeeze bunt as the White Sox ended the Yankees' winning streak at six games. Catcher Duane Josephson drilled three singles and a double and scored three Chicago runs.

Ken Brett, making his first start of the season, hurled a three - hitter and struck out eight in Boston's victory over the skidding Royals. The Red Sox broke a 1-1 tie with two runs in the sixth after Dave Morehead walked the bases full. It was the 12th loss for the Royals in their last 14 games. Left-handers George Brunet and Darold Knowles, combined to tame the Twins on four hits. Brunet fanned 10 before giving way to the Senator's relief specialist in the ninth.

Labre, DeRoock Score Victories In Seagull Races

Mike Labre and Russ DeRoock were winners in the Escanaba Yacht Club's Seagull Class sailboat racing on Sunday and Wednesday respectively.

Following Labre on Sunday were DeRoock, Rich Straebel, Doug Smith, John Cerasoli and Bob Bonefield, while Smith, Labre, Straebel and Cerasoli followed DeRoock in that order on Wednesday.

The sailors compete in Sunday and Wednesday races with the winners of each series paired in a match race for the best over-all sailor.

Trophies for the Sunday and Wednesday Series are donated by Gust Asp and T. D. Vinette and the overall sailor trophy is donated by the Escanaba Daily Press.

Tiger Tales

The Tigers will hold a clinic in Flint Monday for high school coaches. It will be conducted by Tiger scout Bill Lajoie and be held at 1 p. m. at the IMA Lincoln Park.

Willie Horton failed to hit in three times at bat to end his streak at 16 games. But he drove in a run on a sacrifice fly and now has 31 RBI in the last 21 games. His total of 56 leads the American League.

Friday's Game

6:30 Trenary vs. Michigan Hotel at Memorial Field

The Escanaba Merchants added to its lead in the Softball League race Wednesday night with a narrow 4-3 win over Trenary, while the other top three teams in the league were being defeated. In the stunning upsets, Flat Rock was defeated by Goebels 9-6, the Escanaba Independents went nine innings to derail Gladstone 11-10 and Jolly Rogers nipped Paper Mill 3-1.

The Escanaba Merchants and Trenary went right down to the wire, before the Merchants finally pulled the game out. Trenary took a early 1-0 lead in the second inning when Roy Aho homered.

The Merchants scored all its runs in the last of the second, when Jim Moren walked, Cliff O'Donnell double and Bill Goodreau and Don Martineau single to give the Merchants a 4-1 lead. Trenary rally back with two in the sixth and also threaten in the last inning before being defeated.

Tony Derkos went all the way on the mound to pick up the victory, while Sonny Pansanen took the loss for Trenary.

The Merchants will return to action Saturday at Gwinn in the first round of the Gwinn softball tournament when they play Edwards of Iron Mountain at 12:30.

Jolly Rogers scored all of its runs in the second inning and defeating the Papermakers at Memorial Field last night. Jug Bordeau pitcher for Jolly Rogers, led the inning off on an error while Doot Lancour single and Bob Bordeau follow with a double scoring both runs and later scored himself on another error by the Papermakers.

Tod Butler, who pitched the first six innings for Paper Mill took the defeat, while Jug Bordeau picked up the victory for Jolly Rogers, allowing only four hits.

Manny Bordeau save the game for Jolly Rogers in the seventh inning when he caught a line drive and turned it into a double-play to end the game.

Jolly Rogers will play an exhibition game Saturday at the Memorial Field at 3 p. m. against the Stambaugh Merchants.

In Gladstone, the Gladstone Merchants, who led 10-5 going into the last inning, couldn't do anything right in the inning, in order to preserve a victory for their pitcher, Cliff Young, who went the full nine innings on the mound.

Independents scored five times in the last inning to tie the game and send it into extra innings. The key hit in the seventh inning was a inside the park homer by Lee Robitaille, which just missed the glove of Gladstone's center fielder Jerry Wiles.

In the last of the ninth, Ken Robitaille was safe on an infield error, Lee Robitaille walked and Wally Schultz was hit by the ball to load the bases with one out. Tom Boyle lined out to the right fielder to score Robitaille and to give the Independents the hard earned victory.

Ben Yagodzinski and Ken Robitaille paced Independents with 2 hits apiece, while Art VanDamme in his first appearance won the mound verdict from Gladstone's Cliff Young. Rick Ebbeson and Dave Ingebrisen had two hits apiece for Gladstone.

In the night cap, Goebels jumped off to a 6-1 lead in the first inning and held off Flat Rock the remaining six innings to register its fourth victory of the season.

John Way and Bob Myrval paced the first inning uprise with each getting doubles. Jim Micheau started on the mound for Flat Rock with help from Bill Smith in the third. Jim Almonroeder went the distance for Goebels and picked up the victory.

John Way led Goebels at the plate with three hits while Tom Pinar had three for Flat Rock.

McLain Getting Nervous As Opening Date Nears

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Cocksure Detroit pitcher Denny McLain gets nervous when he thinks of his July 1 return to baseball.

"Tiger Stadium is sold out," he says, "and I hope most of them will be cheering instead of booing. I'll need em."

McLain is entering the final two weeks of his suspension by baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn for associating with unsavory characters. He's physically sound and claims to have learned a lesson.

"This case is closed as of July 1," said McLain at his upper middle class Lakeland home. "You might say I'm being born again. I have profited much by this mistake."

"People say you sometimes have to profit by mistakes," he said, "and boy did I have a doozie."

Weights 5 Lbs Less
McLain weighs 200, five pounds under his 1969 playing weight. He works daily at Lakeland High School and pitches "Like I was in a real game" every third or fourth afternoon.

"Some local college and high school kids have rendered their services and serve as batters for me," said the blond McLain, now 26.

"Did they hit me? Hell, now don't put me on the spot. I'm just worried about getting those big guys out for Detroit."

Somebody figured out in the Tiger front office that McLain, with luck, could get as many as 24 starts in the last three months of the season. Despite knowing this, Denny won't own up to but one goal.

Wants To Win Pennant
"I just want to help Detroit win the pennant," he said "It matters little how many I win, but I do hope to prove I'm still as good as in 1968 when I won 31 games."

Manager Mayo Smith called McLain before last night's game in Detroit and they "just talked about general things, nothing special."

Denny has had little contact with his teammates since they worked in spring training at Lakeland.

"Jimmy Price, our No. 2 catcher and the player representative, called me and we talked about things," said McLain. "I've always been well accepted by my Tiger mates and I don't expect it'll be different."

The McLains won't leave for Detroit until "June 30th or the day of the game itself," said Denny. "I don't want too much fuss made over me—interviews and all. I've got to think about pitching."

Sharyn and Denny McLain's rented Detroit home was gobbled up in his financial trouble with federal tax offices, but he said "We've got a place to stay for a couple of months."

McLain's eldest child, four-year-old Kris, starts kindergarten in Lakeland in September. "That's a sign of the times, isn't it?" he said.

Denny said the spring, right through May, seemed "like an eternity." But, "June has breezed by because I've been busy getting ready for the big July 1 start. When I pitch one of my little 'games' here, I go an hour without resting. Jim Handley, a former Detroit farmhand, coaches baseball at Lakeland High and he's helping me out. All the local folks have been great."

The American League season thus far has not surprised McLain much, "except for those damn Yankees, who are close to Baltimore. I didn't think they could go that well with their pitching. Just shows you what can happen when a team gets hot."

McLain says he "would like to think the Tigers can win it, and that's my goal. But, he admits, "there is a helluva lot to make up. But, we can do it. The talent is the same as 1968 when we won it all. We're all just two years older . . . for better or worse."

Old Glory's In Women's Golf League Lead

The Old Glory's took a three-point lead in the Escanaba Country Club Ladies Day League with Snyder's Snooks, Fitz's Witches and Betty's Birdies holding down runner-up spots. Old Glory's sport a total of 22 points to 19 each for the other three rivals.

Lou's Blues have 18½, points followed by Andy's Dandies with 16½, Millies Lillies 15 and Stackettes 12½.

Milly Boyce, Gloria Hansley and Harriet Fitzharris all tied for top honors with 47s. Betty Gauthier and Marie Wicklander tied for runner-up honors with 48s followed by Judde Snyder 49; Marilyn Christianson 49; Dorothy Anderson 50; Milly Johnson 50.

Marilyn Christianson had the least puts, 14, to lead Group I. Blanche LaCrosse and Sue Chamberlain led Group II with 15 each and Carol Courneane had the least in Group III, 15. Among the beginners, Sue Crichton took top honors with 19 puts.

The standings in the Beginners' League are as follows: Pat's Champs 15½; Meyer's Flyers 13; Carol's Perils 11; Hurlin' Burkes 8½.

Simpson's 'Transfer' Could Ignite Warfare

DENVER (AP) — Possible open warfare between the NCAA and the professional American Basketball Association over the Denver Rockets signing a Michigan State star with two years' eligibility left apparently has been averted by league action rejecting the contract.

Less than 24 hours after the Rockets announced they had signed Ralph Simpson as "a hardship case," ABA Commissioner Jack Dolph turned thumbs down.

Dolph said Wednesday in a statement that "if such a contract does in fact exist and is submitted to the commissioner," it would be rejected and a $10,000 fine assessed against the Denver club.

Nothing To Say
Don Ringsby, president and general manager of the Rockets, had announced Simpson's signing with some fanfare Tuesday. But after the commissioner's statement was issued on the first day of the ABA's annual meeting, Ringsby said he would have nothing to say.

However, he gave strong indication the Rockets are not likely to risk the fine by adding, "I am bound by the action of the league at our meeting this morning. I could be fined if I said anything."

Less than a year ago the Rockets signed Spencer Haywood, a University of Detroit star, who like Simpson had completed only his sophomore year. Denver also termed this a hardship situation.

Played Together
Simpson and Haywood played on the same team at Detroit's Pershing High School and the Michigan State player, who averaged 29 points per game for the Spartans last season, said he hoped to play on the same squad again with Haywood. Last March the Rockets tore up Haywood's contract and negotiated a new one for $1.9 million over six years.

Dolph issued his statement in the Simpson case after that NCAA headquarters in Kansas City has called upon member schools to boycott the ABA.

Later, University of Kentucky Coach Adolph Rupp, president of the National Association of Basketball Coaches, announced, "The air is cleared."

Boycott Over
"It's all over," Rupp said, apparently referring to the call for a boycott. "I've had a call from Commissioner Dolph and it's all over with."

The assistant executive director of the NCAA, Arthur Bergstrom, said at Kansas City the collegiate organization would have no further comment immediately. He said "we'll just hold that in abeyance and see what happens regarding Simpson."

Dolph said at a news conference Wednesday night that officials of two ABA clubs had been contacted by a man identifying himself as Simpson. "I'd rather not say what franchises these were and we have no proof it was Simpson who actually made the calls," he said.

Asked about the possibility of court action concerning the Simpson-Rocket contract, Dolph said, "If we have to go to court, we will."

Violates Bylaws
In his statement earlier, Dolph said the Rockets' signing of Simpson "violates provisions of the American Basketball Association bylaws . . . which prohibit any member club from signing players whose college eligibility has not expired."

The commissioner commented to reporters, "If we should reach an agreement on a single expanded league with the NBA (National basketball League), this kind of mistake could not happen."

He said he doesn't know what effect rejection of the contract will have on Simpson, saying, "That would have to be up to the NCAA."

At the NBA meeting in Atlanta, Commissioner Walter Kennedy said his league's policy is against signing college players until their class has graduated. "Every college has the right to reasonably expect that a player will perform for their team for four years," he said.

Teams Deny
In its call for a boycott, the NCAA urged colleges to deny use of facilities to ABA teams and refuse to allow coaches and scouts to visit athletic departments or watch their teams practice.

The league Wednesday chose Wendell Cherry of the Kentucky Colonels as its new president and gave final approval to Ned Doyle as the new owner of the Miami Floridians.

General managers of the ABA will meet in Salt Lake City in mid-July to study a 1970-71 schedule. Each team again will play 84 regular season games, but Dolph said efforts will be made to shorten the time period.

Ironwood Scene Of Slow Pitch Ball Tourney

The Ironwood Knights of Columbus Council No. 1396, in cooperation with the Ironwood Festival Committee, is sponsoring the Third Annual Ironwood Summer Festival Slow Pitch Softball Tournament.

The tournament dates are July 10, 11, and 12. Local pairings will start play on Friday evening, July 10; out of town pairings will begin play on Saturday morning, July 11, to permit travel time to Ironwood. The finals will be held Sunday afternoon, July 12. All games will be played at Randa Field.

The official 1970 slow pitch rules set up by the "International Joint Rules Committee on Softball" will be used except for the following: All players must be 21 years of age or older; 3 balls will constitute a walk; one swinging strike, one foul, or one called strike will constitute an out; no bunting; no leading off base until the ball is hit; and finally 9 innings will constitute a full game.

Prize money will be based on the number of teams entered. If 16 teams enter, minimum first place money will be $150.

Entry fee will be $35. The deadline for entering is Monday, July 6. The entry fee must be paid by July 6. Rosters showing birth dates must be submitted prior to each team's first game.

Mail entry to Jim Somerville, 639 Lake Avenue, Ironwood, Michigan 49938, Phone: 932-1614; or Anton Bonato, Mount View Road, Ironwood, Michigan 49938, Phone: 932-0872.

The University of New Mexico received its worst defeat against Arizona State in track and field this spring, 87-57. It was the most one-sided loss by the Lobos since Hugh Hackett became coach 11 years ago.

Brewers Ambush Orioles; Yankees Remain Two Out

By The Associated Press
There are few pigeons left in Gene Brabender's coop, but he still has some rare birds in hand . . . the Baltimore Orioles. Brabender, a former Baltimore pitching prospect who has migrated to Milwaukee, shackled his ex-teammates for 6 1-3 innings Wednesday night as the lowly Brewers ambushed the sagging Orioles 5-1.

It was only the second victory for Brabender since April 26 . . . and both have been at Baltimore's expense.

Despite their fourth loss in five games, the Orioles retained a two-game lead in the American League East as the Chicago White Sox cooled off the second place New York Yankees 6-3.

Detroit beat Oakland 9-7; Boston took Kansas City 3-1 and Washington topped Minnesota 3-1 in other AL games. California and Cleveland were rained out.

Mike Hegan's three-run homer and a solo shot by Phil Roof helped Brabender, 3-8 overall, bring his two-year record against Baltimore to 4-2.

The big right-hander, who got relief help from Bob Humphreys in the seventh, was 2-2 against the Orioles while pitching for Seattle last year.

He left the game with a 2-1 lead, built on Roof's homer off Dave McNally in the fifth and a sixth inning sacrifice fly by Dave May, who was making his first start for the Brewers after being dealt to them by the Orioles Tuesday.

Humphreys checked Baltimore the rest of the way and Hegan broke the game open with his seventh inning blast.

Pitcher Jerry Janski drove in three runs with a single and squeeze bunt as the White Sox ended the Yankees' winning streak at six games. Catcher Duane Josephson drilled three singles and a double and scored three Chicago runs.

Ken Brett, making his first start of the season, hurled a three - hitter and struck out eight in Boston's victory over the skidding Royals. The Red Sox broke a 1-1 tie with two runs in the sixth after Dave Morehead walked the bases full. It was the 12th loss for the Royals in their last 14 games. Left-handers George Brunet and Darold Knowles, combined to tame the Twins on four hits. Brunet fanned 10 before giving way to the Senator's relief specialist in the ninth.

Tiger Tales

The Tigers will hold a clinic in Flint Monday for high school coaches. It will be conducted by Tiger scout Bill Lajoie and be held at 1 p.m. at the IMA Lincoln Park.

Willie Horton failed to hit in three times at bat to end his streak at 16 games. But he drove in a run on a sacrifice fly and now has 31 RBI in the last 21 games. His total of 56 leads the American League.

Tigers Edge A's; Thanks To 'Socko'

DETROIT (AP) — Ken Szotkiewicz says his batting problem is that he's a thinker and not a swinger.

But Wednesday night he combined the two for what proved to be a game-winning three-run homer in the fifth inning as the Detroit Tigers clipped the Oakland Athletics 9-7 in an error-filled game.

6½ Games Back

The win, combined with a Baltimore loss to Milwaukee, put the third-place Tigers within 6½ games of the first-place Orioles in the American League East.

"One thing I do is too much thinking," said the 23-year-old rookie who is batting just .150. "If I don't get a hit or something I've got it stuck in my mind and it affects me."

He said he is trying to get over that, but the memory of his strikeout against A's reliever Diego Segui in the third made him "determined to hit that doggone ball the next time." After a single by Jim Northrup and a walk to Ike Brown, "Socko" smashed a homer into the upper deck in right field, his second of the year.

Detroit was scheduled to play the National League Philadelphia Phillies tonight in an exhibition game. Tiger manager Mayo Smith hadn't decided on who was to pitch but the Phillies were expected to start Grant Jackson, 1-5. The game is for the benefit of amateur baseball in the Michigan-Ohio-Ontario area.

Homer Helps

Szotkiewicz (Sock - ah - witz) said the homer "really helped me a lot. Now it's a matter of getting in the groove and learning the pitchers."

The left-handed swinging shortstop from Wilmington, Del., said batting coach Wally Moses has been working considerably with him.

"He told me if I saw a good pitch to go get it," Socko said in the Tiger dressing room. "I was on the defensive all the time but on the home run I went out after that one."

It was almost a miracle the Tigers won since they had to survive six errors, two by substitute third baseman Brown and four throwing errors by pitchers.

Oakland scored first, getting a run off starter Les Cain in the first on a walk by Bert Campaneris, two stolen bases, and an infield error by Sal Bando.

Tigers Rally

But Detroit bounced back with five runs in the second off 10-game winner Jim "Catfish" Hunter, two of them unearned. Northrup and Bill Freehan singled and Brown sent them home with a double.

After a walk to Szotkiewicz third baseman Bando made an error on Cain's grounder sending in the third run. Dick McAuliffe walked in the next with the bases loaded and an error by shortstop Campaneris scored the fifth.

The A's scored three unearned runs in the third with Cain making a throwing error and Brown letting a grounder slip past him for two runs.

Campaneris and Reggie Jackson singled in unearned runs in the fourth after a throwing error by reliever Fred Scherman and Brown to put Oakland ahead 6-5.

Szotkiewicz' blast made the score 8-5, then Oakland scored another unearned run in the sixth on a sacrifice fly by Jackson after a throwing error by Scherman put a runner on third.

Trevino Confident In U.S. Golf Open

CHASKA, Minn. (AP) — Lee Trevino, no longer discouraged by the first ball he ever hit at Hazeltine National, classed himself and Gary Player as the man to beat in the 70th U.S. Open golf championship.

Trevino, the wise-cracking Mexican-American from El Paso, Tex., and Player, the little South African, played more practice rounds leading up to today's first round than any others in the field of 136 professionals and 14 amateurs.

River Post Wins; Leads Slow Pitch By Two Games

Wednesday's Results
River Post 10, Heyn-Selins 3
Paper Mill 2, Lombardi's 1

River Post cemented its lead Wednesday night in the Escanaba Slow Pitch League when they defeated the second place Heynssens-Selins team 10-3, to take a two game lead in the standings, while Paper Mill surprised Lombardi's 2-1.

River Post, after leading 4-3 going into the fifth, scored three runs in both the fifth and seventh innings to register its ill important league victory.

Jim Sargent paced the attack for River Post with three hits, while Wally Marenger, Jim Olsen and Norm Pangonis had two hits apiece. Roger Olsen and Earl Groleau led Heynssens-Selins with two hits.

Phil Hiney took the mound decision from Don Alimenti, who had one strike out in the game.

Levi Young gave up only three hits in hurling the Paper-makers over Lombardi's. Bob Trombley had two hits to pace the Paper Mill attack.

Gibson Misses No-Hitter In Cardinals' 8-0 Victory

By The Associated Press
Bob Gibson was firing bullets but fortunately for San Diego, one of his blazing missiles misfired, saving the Padres the embarrassment of being no-hit victims for the second time within a week.

Ivan Murrell was the mini-hero of the Padres, expoding a two-out eighth inning single the only hit-off the overpowering St. Louis right-hander, who faced only 29 batters as the Cardinals routed San Diego 8-0 Wednesday night.

In other National League action, Los Angeles blanked Pittsburgh 4-0, Atlanta nipped Montreal 6-5, Cincinnati stopped the New York Mets 7-4, Chicago belted San Francisco 6-1 and Philadelphia whipped Houston 4-2.

Only five nights earlier, Dock Ellis of the Pirates tossed the season's only no-hitter, blanking the Padres 2-0.

Six Straight

Rich Allen, until Murrell drilled a sharp grounder over second base and into center field in the eighth.

Jose Cardenal backed Gibson's performance, stroking three doubles, scoring twice and driving in a pair of runs. Gibson also delivered two run-scoring singles and lowered his ERA to 3.76 while upping his strikeouts to 126 in 107 2/3 innings, second in the league to Tom Seaver's 129.

Claude Osteen, bagging his ninth victory, staggered for five innings, allowing the Pirates six of their seven hits before handing Pittsburgh its second straight shutout loss.

The loser was Ellis, making his first start since his no-hitter against the Padres. The fast-balling right-hander retired the first 10 Dodger hitters before Manny Mota singled. Wes Parker then drove in Mota and Los Angeles added a pair of runs in the sixth on run-scoring hits by Andy Kosco and Bill Grabanek-witz.

Braves Win
Gil Garrido drilled an eighth-inning triple and came home on Rico Carty's single as the Braves came from behind to stop the Expos.

Ernie Banks slammed a three-run blast and Paul Popovich a solo homer while Him Hickman contributed a two-run double in the Cubs' triumph. Ken Holtzman, 8-3, posted his fifth consecutive victory, holding the Giants to seven hits, including Willie Mays' 15th homer. Mays also cracked a single, pulling him within 20 hits of the exclusive 3,000-hit club.

Deron Johnson rapped a pair of doubles, driving in the deciding run and setting up an insurance marker in the Phillies' victory.

Michigan Coach Feels He Can Handle Grid Job

By The Associated Press

Another heart attack?

Michigan football coach Bo Schembechler doesn't think he'll have one and he is confident he'll be able to handle his high pressure job this year without physical problems.

"I'm ready to go and very confident about myself and about having a good year of football," he said at his office at the U-M athletic department.

Actually, he wasn't in his office at all. He was in business manager Dave Strack's office primarily because the temperature was 88 degrees and the air conditioner in Schembechler's room broke down.

He told a secretary to take a break, leaned back in a swivel chair, propped his feet up on Strack's massive desk, and talked about his condition.

Coach Of Year

Schembechler, nearly everyone's Coach of the Year after the 1969 season, suffered a heart attack just prior to Michigan's appearance against Southern Cal in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1.

Consequently he was hospitalized in Pasadena and that's where he stayed as the Wolverines fell 10-3 to the Trojans. Defensive coordinator Jim Young was the top assistant in charge but several assistants called plays during the game.

There was much to be said against some conservative play by the Wolverines and many observers believe they would have won with Schembechler at the helm. But that's history now and no one will ever really know if his presence would have meant victory to U-M.

The 40-year-old second-year U-M coach spent several weeks in the hospital before returning to Michigan. Now he is on special diets, staying away from smoking and working out daily.

Jogs 3 Miles A Day

"Here's what you won't believe," he said, a grin spreading across his face. "I jog three miles a day. The track out here is four laps to the mile. I run the straightaways, which are 100 yards, then walk the curves and run the straightaways again."

Schembechler, who was head coach six years at Miami of Ohio, said he felt one of the reasons he had a heart attack—which, incidentally, was considered mild—was that when he got to Michigan he was so swamped with work and getting adjusted that he didn't work out.

"If I had it to do over again I would continue to work out when I came to Michigan," he said. "I did it before I came here. Now I'm never going to be too busy to do it."

It used to be Schembechler would eat something whenever he got tense or nervous.

Likes To Eat

"I've never been a smoker or drinker but when I got nervous or was under pressure a lot of times I'd sent out for something to eat," Bo explained. "But I don't get that hungry anymore."

Anyone who saw Michigan upset Ohio State last year to gain a tie for the Big Ten championship realizes how exciting and pressure-packed a big game can be.

What happens this year during the big game—or during the several big games which the Wolverines will surely have? What affect will the high point of the game have on Schembechler's heart?

"No, I'm not worried about it," he stressed, wheeling his chair from a side to a frontal position. "I feel so confident now in the things I have done to get myself ready. I have taken my time and I know what I'm doing."

"I don't anticipate having any other problem. I had my warning and I know how to handle it now."

Age No Barrier

"On the basis of my age I can come back and handle the job better than a guy in his early 30s."

He pondered what job opportunities he might accept if he ever quit coaching football and said: "There would probably be just as much pressure in any other job I take. For instance, if I became a salesman I would go all out to do my best and would always be pushing because that's the way I am."

"Why should I work so hard under pressure in something like that when I like football. Football's my life and I want to stay in it."

Schembechler who lives with his wife Millie and their four children in Ann Arbor, said he plans to continue to lose weight until he gets under 180 pounds. Besides his dieting and workouts, he gets to bed earlier at night. And he has been reading several books on the heart.

Bo has most of his starters, offense and defense, returning. Because of the Big Ten "no repeat rule" the Wolverines can't go to the 1971 Rose Bowl, but they're sure to be a prime contender for the conference title.

"I think the success of our season will depend on what we do in the first conference game against Purdue and the second game against Michigan State," he said emphatically.

"That's the key. Those are the ones we have to win. They'll be the tough ones — both of them."

MAKERS OF LIFESAVER RADIAL TIRES "YOUR LIFE SHOULD BE RIDING ON THEM"

Tigers Edge A's; Thanks To 'Socko'

DETROIT (AP) — Ken Szotkiewicz says his batting problem is that he's a thinker and not a swinger.

But Wednesday night he combined the two for what proved to be a game-winning three-run homer in the fifth inning as the Detroit Tigers clipped the Oakland Athletics 9-7 in an error-filled game.

6½ Games Back

The win, combined with a Baltimore loss to Milwaukee, put the third-place Tigers within 6½ games of the first-place Orioles in the American League East.

"One thing I do as too much thinking," said the 23-year-old rookie who is batting just .150. "If I don't get a hit or something I've got it stuck in my mind and it affects me."

He said he is trying to get over that, but the memory of his strikeout against A's reliever Diego Segui in the third made him "determined to hit that doggone ball the next time." After a single by Jim Northrup and a walk to Ike Brown, "Socko" smashed a homer into the upper deck in right field, his second of the year.

Detroit was scheduled to play the National League Philadelphia Phillies tonight in an exhibition game. Tiger manager Mayo Smith hadn't decided on who was to pitch but the Phillies were expected to start Grant Jackson, 1-5. The game is for the benefit of amateur baseball in the Michigan-Ohio-Ontario area.

Homer Helps

Szotkiewicz (Sock - ah - witz) said the homer "really helped me a lot. Now it's a matter of getting in the groove and learning the pitchers."

The lefthanded swinging shortstop from Wilmington, Del., said batting coach Wally Moses has been working considerably with him.

"He told me if I saw a good pitch to go get it," Socko said in the Tiger dressing room. "I was on the defensive all the time but on the home run I went out after that one."

It was almost a miracle the Tigers won since they had to survive six errors, two by substitute third baseman Brown and four throwing errors by pitchers.

Oakland scored first, getting a run off starter Les Cain in the first on a walk by Bert Campaneris, two stolen bases, and an infield single by Sal Bando.

Tigers Rally

But Detroit bounced back with five runs in the second off 10-game winner Jim "Catfish" Hunter, two of them unearned. Northrup and Bill Freehan singled and Brown sent them home with a double.

After a walk to Szotkiewicz third baseman Bando made an error on Cain's grounder sending in the third run. Dick McAuliffe walked in the next with the bases loaded and an error by shortstop Campaneris scored the fifth.

The A's scored three unearned runs in the third with Cain making a throwing error and Brown letting a grounder slip past him for two runs.

Campaneris and Reggie Jackson singled in unearned runs in the fourth after a throwing error by reliever Fred Scherman and Brown to put Oakland ahead 6-5.

Szotkiewicz' blast made the score 8-5, then Oakland scored another unearned run in the sixth on a sacrifice fly by Jackson after a throwing error by Scherman put a runner on third.

Trevino Confident In U.S. Golf Open

CHASKA, Minn. (AP) — Lee Trevino, no longer discouraged by the first ball he ever hit at Hazeltine National, classed himself and Gary Player as the man to beat in the 70th U.S. Open golf championship.

Trevino, the wise-cracking Mexican-American from El Paso, Tex., and Player, the little South African, played more practice rounds leading up to today's first round than any others in the field of 136 professionals and 14 amateurs.

River Post Wins; Leads Slow Pitch By Two Games

River Post 10, Heyn-Selins 3
Paper Mill 2, Lombardi's 1

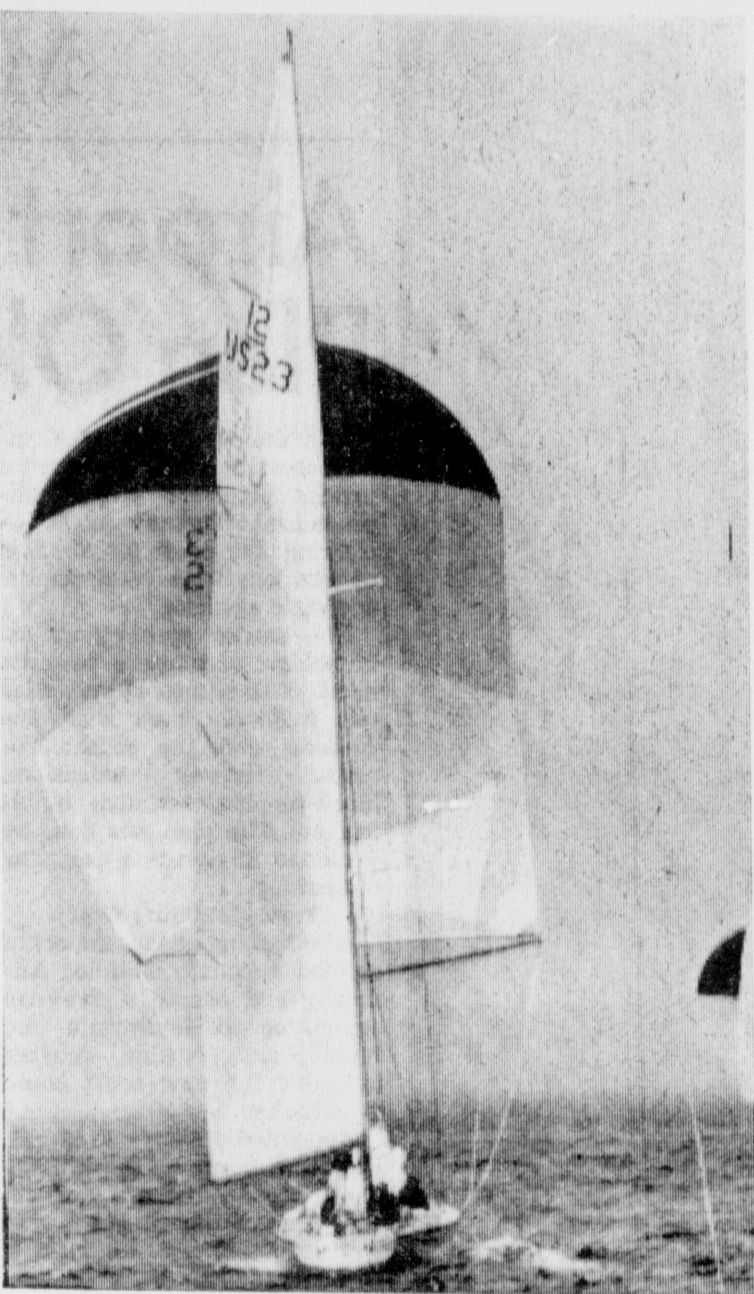

River Post cemented its lead Wednesday night in the Escanaba Slow Pitch League when they defeated the second place Heynssens-Selins team 10-3, to take a two game lead in the standings, while Paper Mill surprised Lombardi's 2-1.

River Post, after leading 4-3 going into the fifth, scored three runs in both the fifth and seventh innings to register its ill important league victory.

Jim Sargent paced the attack for River Post with three hits, while Wally Marenger, Jim Olsen and Norm Panganis had two hits apiece. Roger Olsen and Earl Groleau led Heynssens-Selins with two hits.

Phil Hiney took the mound decision from Don Alimenti, who had one strike out in the game.

Levi Young gave up only three hits in hurling the Paper-makers over Lombardi's. Bob Trombley had two hits to pace the Paper Mill attack.

Michigan Coach Feels He Can Handle Grid Job

By The Associated Press

Another heart attack? Michigan football coach Bo Schembechler doesn't think he'll have one and he is confident he'll be able to handle his high pressure job this year without physical problems.

"I'm ready to go and very confident about myself and about having a good year of football," he said at his office at the U-M athletic department.

Actually, he wasn't in his office at all. He was in business manager Dave Strack's office primarily because the temperature was 88 degrees and the air conditioner in Schembechler's room broke down.

He told a secretary to take a break, leaned back in a swivel chair, propped his feet up on Strack's massive desk, and talked about his condition.

Coach Of Year

Gibson Misses No-Hitter In Cardinals' 8-0 Victory

By The Associated Press

Bob Gibson was firing bullets but fortunately for San Diego, one of his blazing missiles misfired, saving the Padres the embarrassment of being no-hit victims for the second time within a week.

Ivan Murrell was the mini-hero of the Padres, expoding a two-out eighth inning single the only hit—off the overpowering St. Louis righthander, who faced only 29 batters as the Cardinals routed San Diego 8-0 Wednesday night.

In other National League action, Los Angeles blanked Pittsburgh 4-0, Atlanta nipped Montreal 6-5, Cincinnati stopped the New York Mets 7-4, Chicago belted San Francisco 6-1 and Philadelphia whipped Houston 4-2.

Only five nights earlier, Dock Ellis of the Pirates tossed the season's only no-hitter, blanking the Padres 2-0.

Six Straight

Only one ball was hit hard, a liner in the fifth by Ron Slocum, but it was right at first baseman

Rich Allen, until Murrell drilled a sharp grounder over second base and into center field in the eighth.

Jose Cardenal backed Gibson's performance, stroking three doubles, scoring twice and driving in a pair of runs. Gibson also delivered two run-scoring singles and lowered his ERA to 3.76 while upping his strikeouts to 126 in 107 2-3 innings, second in the league to Tom Seaver's 129.

Claude Osteen, bagging his ninth victory, staggered for five innings, allowing the Pirates six of their seven hits before handing Pittsburgh its second straight shutout loss.

The loser was Ellis, making his first start since his no-hitter against the Padres. The fast-balling right-hander retired the first 10 Dodger hitters before Manny Mota singled. Wes Parker then drove in Mota and Los Angeles added a pair of runs in the sixth on run-scoring hits by Andy Kosco and Bill Grabarke-witz.

Braves Win

Gil Garrido drilled an eighth-inning triple and came home on Rico Carty's single as the Braves came from behind to stop the Expos.

Montreal led 4-0 before Braves starter Jim Nash ripped a two-run homer. Mike Lum's two-run double in the seventh tied it for Atlanta at 5-5 before Carty's game winner. Jim Gosger homered for the Expos.

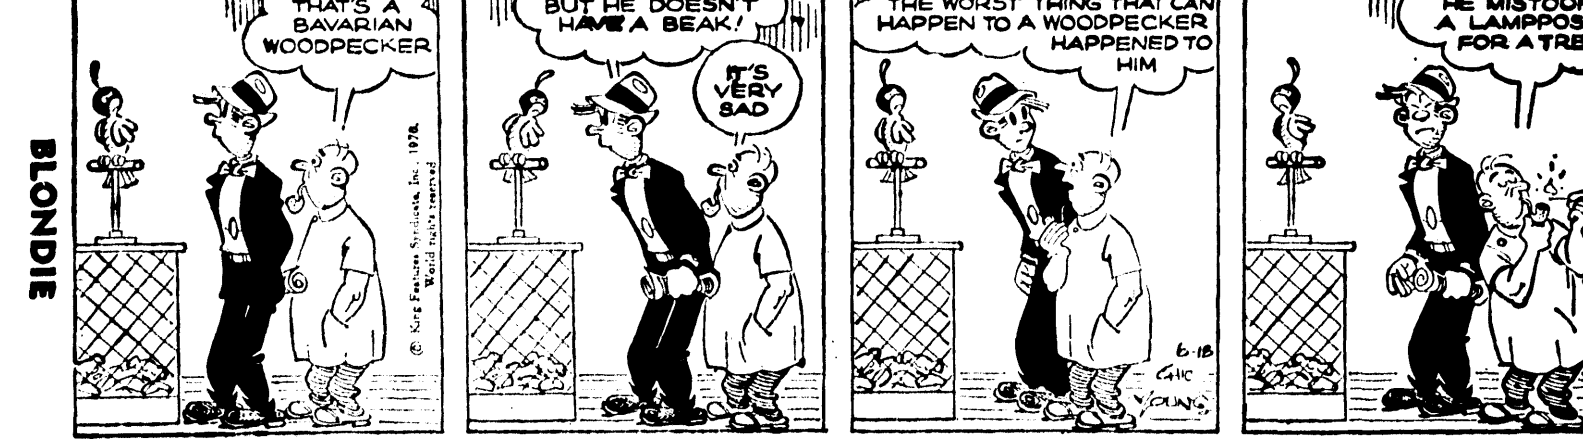

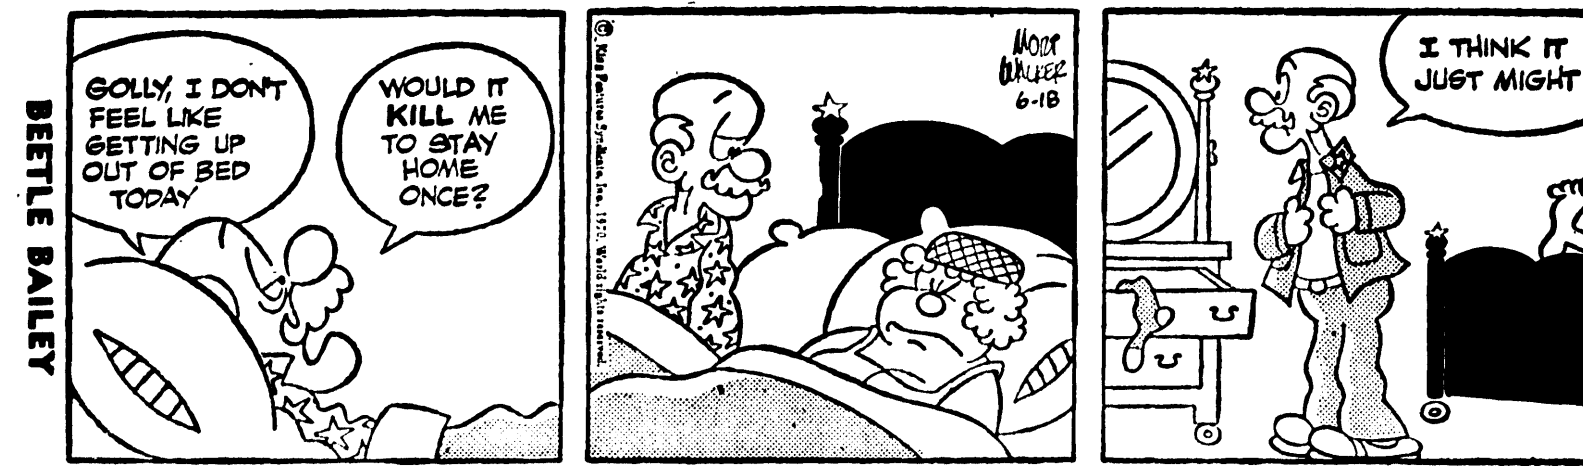

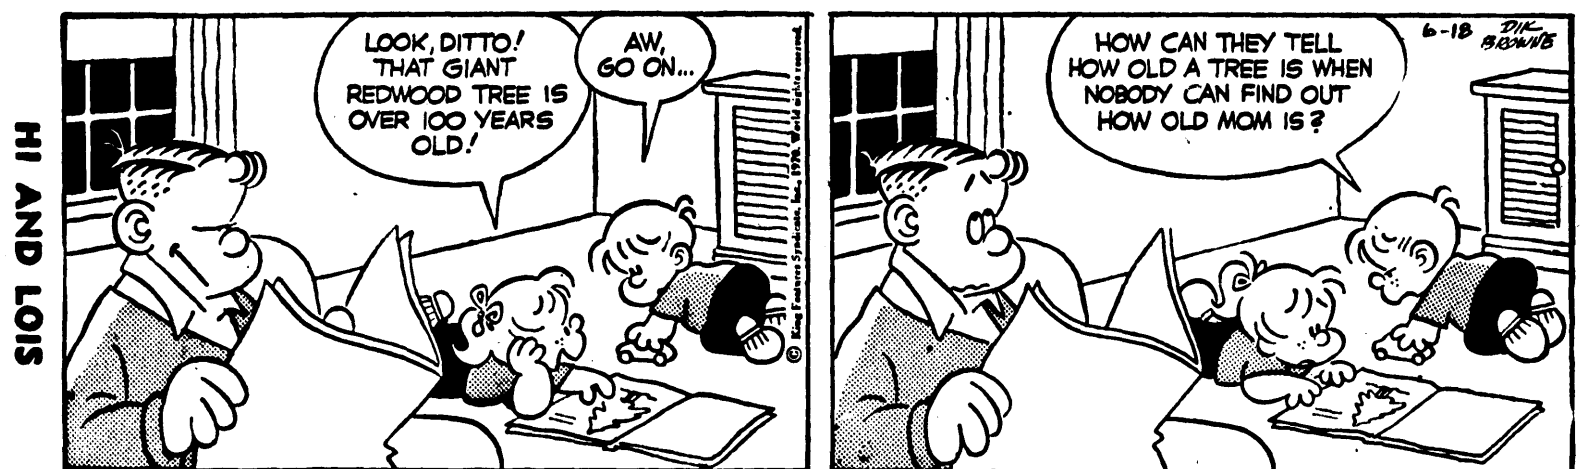

Pinch hitter Hal McRae lined a run-scoring single to cap a three-run ninth as the Reds rallied for their victory, snapping the Mets' winning streak at four games.

Lee May's 16th homer of the season—a two-run shot had tied it in the eighth. John Bench added his 21st of the year for the Reds while Tommie Agee and Cleon Jones homered for New York.

Ernie Banks slammed a three-run blast and Paul Popovich a solo homer while Him Hickman contributed a two-run double in the Cubs' triumph. Ken Holtzman, 8-3, posted his fifth consecutive victory, holding the Giants to seven hits, including Willie Mays' 15th homer. Mays also cracked a single, pulling him within 20 hits of the exclusive 3,000-hit club.

Deron Johnson rapped a pair of doubles, driving in the deciding run and setting up an insurance marker in the Phillies' victory.

Queen Contest Ends Tonight

"Miss Schoolcraft County 1970" will be chosen tonight with the winner reigning over Fourth of July festivities and representing the area in the search for Miss Upper Peninsula at the U.P. State Fair in August.

Competing for the title, a $50 wardrobe of her choice and an engraved trophy will be candidates Davena Patterson, Carol Peterson, Maureen Fagan, Susan Hanson, Charlotte Messer, Shirley Osterhout, Marie Lesica, Becky Rodgers and Cheryl Beaudry.

Mrs. Fred Lesica and Mrs. Jack Phillips, Queen committee co-chairmen, said the girls will appear in both street clothing and formal gowns. Pete Widdis is master of ceremonies with Judge and Mrs. Charles Stark of Munising, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Weiland of Escanaba and a local resident judging the event.

The general public is invited to attend the contest which will take place in the St. Francis Parish Center at 7:30 tonight. Refreshments will be served following the program by Mrs. Stan Arnold and Mrs. Glen Pawley.

Services Set Friday For Earl Belcher

Earl W. Belcher, 70, of 215 Charlotte Ave., Royal Oak, was found dead June 16 at his cabin in Garden Township. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

He was born Sept. 26, 1898 in Pickford and had spent most of his life in Detroit and Royal Oak. He had attended the Manistique Public Schools and was married to the former Nan Durno in 1925 in Detroit.

Mr. Belcher was a veteran of World War 1, serving in Europe with the Red Arrow Army Division from 1917-1919. He had been employed as a driver for the Railway Express Co. in the Detroit area.

He is survived by his widow; one daughter, Mrs. Clyde (Beverly) Stewart of Berlin Center, Ohio; one stepbrother, Albert Bartman of Casewille, Mich.; and one stepson, Mrs. Stella Corcoran of Evanston, Ill., and four grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Messier-Brouillette Funeral Home after 4 p.m. today and complete funeral services will be conducted at 4 p.m. Friday. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery, Manistique.

In the early 19th century, some scoundrels made their living shanghaiing sailors for Nantucket whaling ships, for a fee. Thrifty captains charged the fee to the sailor, so the luckless seaman paid for the privilege of being pressed into a voyage that might take him away from home for three years.

Airport Improvement Plan Okayed By Board

The County Board of Commissioners formally approved a master plan for airport improvement Tuesday night — clearing the way for funding applications to several federal and state agencies.

The master plan allows for immediate and future development of the airport including two industrial park sites, one 60-acres and the second 80-acres, runway extensions, black-topping, terminal building, etc. The plan was done by Peckman Engineering Company of Lansing.

Creates Building Group
Also looking ahead, the board created a County Building Authority and named a five-man committee to investigate and report any outside funding available for new court house construction.

Appointed were Fred H. Hahne, William J. Olesak, Raymond Krusic, Richard Rodgers and Bruce Gilman. The group will meet June 23 to elect a chairman.

The board approved an amendment to the County Dog Enforcement schedule of fees allowing the dog warden to collect $1 per day from pet owners for board expenses. If any dog is unclaimed, the county will pay the warden not more than $2 for board expense for a 48-hour period. The request came from Sheriff Lloyd Gray, under whose department dog enforcement is carried out, and county dog warden Ed Jones.

Jones said that if any animals are unclaimed after 48 hours, they are subject to destruction. Suppose I want to keep an unclaimed dog or one whose owners don't want? Can I legally do this without creating controversy and have people accuse me of "catching dogs to keep or sell?" he asked.

Dogs Prove Problem
He said he presently had seven "purebred dogs in my yard which are too good to kill but unwanted by their owners." He has purchased licenses for the dogs but wanted clarification on whether he could legally sell the unwanted and unclaimed dogs.

The board was unable to decide this point and indicated they would seek a legal opinion. Jones reported he had canvassed the county and discovered 320 dogs who were unlicensed and had not had their shots.

U.S. Automakers Losing Ground

DETROIT (AP)—U.S. automakers lost more ground this week with production of 181,551 cars compared to 189,963 for the comparable week a year ago. Last week the firms built 187,193 cars, high for the year. So far this year the domestic automakers have assembled 3,705,105 cars down some 14 per cent from the 4,301,411 which had been built by this time in 1969, the trade publication Automotive News reported.

Truck production in the United States reached 892,318 units compared to 934,743 at this time a year ago. There were 44,600 trucks scheduled for completion through Saturday, compared to 41,081 last week and 38,598 in the comparable week of 1969. In Canada truck production reached 149,891 for the year, compared to 163,332 a year earlier. Assemblies for the week reached 7,195 compared to 7,641 a week earlier and 6,484 during the comparable week a year ago.

The owners have been notified of the make-up rabies clinic on June 20, he said. He also estimated there were about 250 other dogs, unlicensed and untreated, whom he had not discovered.

Renovations Take Place
Chairman Lindsley Frenette said the hospital board wanted the county to consider building clinical facilities, adjacent to the hospital, and leasing same to local doctors and dentists.

Frenette said the board has modified hospital remodeling plans since the proposed clinic expansion program was initiated to service the clinic and would have meant additional revenue for the hospital. Frenette said he understood some renovation plan would be undertaken by the hospital but not as extensively as originally announced.

Clerk Fred Lesica read a list of 24 citations filed by the State Fire Marshall's office against the hospital. The report was made on June 12 following an inspection by the state agency. Commissioner Thurman Skarritt said compliance with the recommendations would require spending about $20,000-$30,000 and had in the past contributed to necessary rate raises.

To Attend School
A supplemental appropriation of $550 for Tax Equalization Department trainee John Rose's salary, covering the May 4 to July 1 period, was approved.

Rose will attend a 36-week course of study at Michigan Technological University to receive certification as tax appraiser.

Commissioner Ernest Hoholik said Mayor Douglas Rose and Councilman Leo DeMars met with the county finance committee.

Events

NCSF
At a recent meeting, the National Catholic Society of Foresters decided to hold their annual potluck picnic at 6:30 in the Parish Center on Aug. 14. The group also voted to donate a travel award they won at the recent Cloverland Association convention to the Knights of Columbus Bishop Baraga project.

Mrs. Jack Phillips won the bridge award while Mrs. Jack Roemer won the 500 prize. Kathryn Klimpf was chairman of the hostess committee assisted by Mary McBurney, Mary Krusic, Josephine LaVigne, Lottie Malloy, Julie Matthews, Vivian Miller, Pat Mickelson, Marie McNamara and Marilda McNamara.

mittee to discuss the city's request that the city and county share expenses on purchasing an $8,500 snorkel unit for the county fire truck. The request is under study, Hoholik said.

The sheriff's department was authorized to set up a five-day work week for two full time deputies and allow part-time deputies to work an additional day per week. The authorization is effective July 1 and salary adjustments will come from the sheriff's budget.

Before adjourning, the board appointed Howard Larson to a five-year term on the County Library Board, replacing Mrs. Beda Hough; heard a report from treasurer William Cowman; okayed the Veterans of Foreign Wars request for a picnic in August at the Pines; and commended County Clerk Fred Lesica for compiling the history of the county in the current county directory.

7 Seeking Posts On Commission

All seven members of the County Board of Commissioners filed nominating petitions for re-election. Four of the seven face opposition in the November general election.

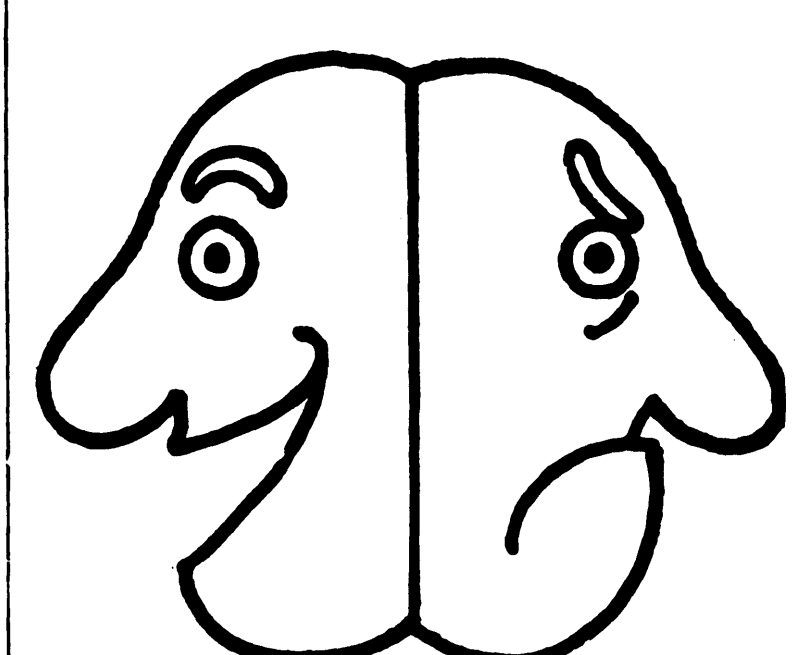

Republican LeRoy Belcik of Gulliver is challenging Democratic incumbent Lindsley Frenette of Gulliver for the District 2 seat (Doyle-Manistique Townships).

City Republicans George J. Danko, 128 N. Houghton Ave., and Dino H. Pirola, 511 Main St., are seeking seats held by Democratic incumbents Homer J. Weber and Norman W. Jahn. Weber represents City District 5 while Jahn was elected from City District 6.

The lone Republican on the board — incumbent Edward J. Jorgenson — is facing opposition from Democrat Earl LeBrasseur, 318 Range St., for the City District 7 seat.

Incumbent Democrats Thurman Skarritt Sr., District 1 (Seney - Germfask - Mueller); Russell A. Tennant, District 3 (Inwood-Hiawatha Townships); Ernest Hoholik, District 4 (Thompson Township and City No. 1) are unopposed for re-election.

Nominating petitions have also been filed by Circuit Judge William F. Hood of Manistique, and Probate Judge John S. Faketty, both of whom are unopposed. Filing deadline was 4 p.m. Tuesday.

BRIDAL GOWN — There's a saying that it's unlucky for the bridegroom to see his bride the day of the wedding until they arrive at the altar, but with this bridal gown shown by designer Jacques Tiffreau in New York, he doesn't even get to see her at the altar. Eye holes only. Wouldn't he worry about the possibility of a ringer?

Queen Contest Ends Tonight

"Miss Schoolcraft County 1970" will be chosen tonight with the winner reigning over Fourth of July festivities and representing the area in the search for Miss Upper Peninsula at the U.P. State Fair in August.

Competing for the title, a $50 wardrobe of her choice and an engraved trophy will be candidates Davena Patterson, Carol Peterson, Maureen Fagan, Susan Hanson, Charlotte Messer, Shirley Osterhout, Marie Lesica, Becky Rodgers and Cheryl Beaudry.

Mrs. Fred Lesica and Mrs. Jack Phillips, Queen committee co-chairmen, said the girls will appear in both street clothing and formal gowns. Pete Widdis is master of ceremonies with Judge and Mrs. Charles Stark of Munising, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Weiland of Escanaba and a local resident judging the event.

The general public is invited to attend the contest which will take place in the St. Francis Parish Center at 7:30 tonight. Refreshments will be served following the program by Mrs. Stan Arnold and Mrs. Glen Pawley.

Services Set Friday For Earl Belcher

Earl W. Belcher, 70, of 215 Charlotte Ave., Royal Oak, was found dead June 16 at his cabin in Garden Township. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

He was born Sept. 26, 1898 in Pickford and had spent most of his life in Detroit and Royal Oak. He had attended the Manistique Public Schools and was married to the former Nan Durno in 1925 in Detroit.

Mr. Belcher was a veteran of World War I, serving in Europe with the Red Arrow Army Division from 1917-1919. He had been employed as a driver for the Railway Express Co. in the Detroit area.

He is survived by his widow; one daughter, Mrs. Clyde (Beverly) Stewart of Berlin Center, Ohio; one stepbrother, Albert Bartman of Caseville, Mich.; and one stepson, Mrs. Stella Corcoran of Evanston, Ill., and four grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Messier-Broulliere Funeral Home after 4 p.m. today and complete funeral services will be conducted at 4 p.m. Friday. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery, Manistique.

In the early 19th century, some scoundrels made their living shanghaiing sailors for Nantucket whaling ships, for a fee. Thrifty captains charged the fee to the sailor, so the luckless seaman paid for the privilege of being pressed into a voyage that might take him away from home for three years.

Airport Improvement Plan Okayed By Board

The County Board of Commissioners formally approved a master plan for airport improvement Tuesday night — clearing the way for funding applications to several federal and state agencies.

The master plan allows for immediate and future development of the airport including two industrial park sites, one 60-acres and the second 80-acres, runway extensions, black-topping, terminal building, etc. The plan was done by Peckman Engineering Company of Lansing.

Also looking ahead, the board created a County Building Authority and named a five-man committee to investigate and report any outside funding available for new court house construction.

Appointed were Fred H. Hahne, William J. Olesak, Raymond Krusic, Richard Rodgers and Bruce Gilman. The group will meet June 23 to elect a chairman.

The board approved an amendment to the County Dog Enforcement schedule of fees allowing the dog warden to collect $1 per day from pet owners for board expenses. If any dog is unclaimed, the county will pay the warden not more than $2 for board expense for a 48-hour period. The request came from Sheriff Lloyd Gray, under whose department dog enforcement is carried out, and county dog warden Ed Jones.

Jones said that if any animals are unclaimed after 48 hours, they are subject to destruction. Suppose I want to keep an unclaimed dog or one whose owners don't want? Can I legally do this without creating controversy and have people accuse me of "catching dogs to keep or sell?" he asked.

Dogs Prove Problem

He said he presently had seven "purebred dogs in my yard which are too good to kill but unwanted by their owners." He has purchased licenses for the dogs but wanted clarification on whether he could legally sell the unwanted and unclaimed dogs.

The board was unable to decide this point and indicated they would seek a legal opinion. Jones reported he had canvassed the county and discovered 320 dogs who were unlicensed and had not had their required shots. The owners have been notified of the make-up rabies clinic on June 20, he said. He also estimated there were about 250 other dogs, unlicensed and untreated, whom he had not discovered.

Renovations Take Place

Chairman Lindsley Frenette said the hospital board wanted the county to consider building clinical facilities, adjacent to the hospital, and leasing same to local doctors and dentists. Frenette said the board has modified hospital remodeling plans since the proposed clinic expansion program was initiated to service the clinic and would have meant additional revenue for the hospital. Frenette said he understood some renovation plan would be undertaken by the hospital but not as extensively as originally announced.

Clerk Fred Lesica read a list of 24 citations filed by the State Fire Marshall's office against the hospital. The report was made on June 12 following an inspection by the state agency. Commissioner Thurman Skarritt said compliance with the recommendations would require spending about $20,000-$30,000 and had in the past contributed to necessary rate raises.

To Attend School

A supplemental appropriation of $550 for Tax Equalization Department trainee John Rose's salary, covering the May 4 to July 1 period, was approved. Rose will attend a 36-week course of study at Michigan Technological University to receive certification as tax appraiser.

Commissioner Ernest Hoholik said Mayor Douglas Rose and Councilman Leo DeMars met with the county finance committee to discuss the city's request that the city and county share expenses on purchasing an $8,500 snorkel unit for the county fire truck. The request is under study, Hoholik said.

The sheriff's department was authorized to set up a five-day work week for two full time deputies and allow part-time deputies to work an additional day per week. The authorization is effective July 1 and salary adjustments will come from the sheriff's budget.

Before adjourning, the board appointed Howard Larson to a five-year term on the County Library Board, replacing Mrs. Boda Hough; heard a report from treasurer William Cowman; okayed the Veterans of Foreign Wars request for a picnic in August at the Pines; and commended County Clerk Fred Lesica for compiling the history of the county in the current county directory.

At a recent meeting, the National Catholic Society of Foresters decided to hold their annual potluck picnic at 6:30 in the Parish Center on Aug. 14. The group also voted to donate a travel award they won at the recent Cloverland Association convention to the Knights of Columbus Bishop Baraga project.

Mrs. Jack Phillips won the bridge award while Mrs. Jack Roemer won the 500 prize. Kathryn Klimpf was chairman of the hostess committee assisted by Mary McBurney, Mary Krusic, Josephine LaVigne, Lottie Malloy, Julie Matthews, Vivian Miller, Pat Mickelson, Marie McNamara and Marilda McNamara.

Nominating petitions have also been filed by Circuit Judge William F. Hood of Manistique, and Probate Judge John S. Fackety, both of whom are unopposed. Filing deadline was 4 p.m. Tuesday.

Card of Thanks

Goodman

We wish to take this means of expressing our sincere thanks and appreciation for the many acts of sympathy and kindness shown us during our recent bereavement.
We especially wish to thank Mrs. Matt Goodman, and the staff on second floor
South at St. Francis Hospital.
The memory of these acts of kindness will always remain with us.

The Family of
Mrs. Lois Goodman

Groleau

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all my friends, neighbors and relatives who sent me cards, gifts and flowers while I was a patient at St. Francis Hospital. Especially I would like to thank Dr. Maniaci and all the nurses on third floor
South who made my stay at the hospital more comfortable. Your acts of kindness will always be remembered.

Mrs. Myrtle Groleau

Probate Judge Seeks 4th Term

Probate Judge Marie D. Peters has filed an affidavit of candidacy at the Delta County Clerk's office stating that she will seek re-election to the office she has held since 1967 in the Aug. 4 primary election. Judge Peters, who resides at 900 S. 17th St., is a past president of the Business & Professional Women's Club and the Altrusa Club and has served as treasurer of the B. P. W. and the Disabled American Veterans. She is also a member of the Council of Community Services and of the Michigan Association of Probate Judges and the U. P. Association of Probate Judges. She is a member of the Salem Lutheran Church, of which her father, the late Rev. William Peters, was a pastor. Miss Peters was born in Saginaw and moved to Escanaba with her family when her father took over his pastoral duties. Judge Peters graduated from Escanaba High School and completed business training at Cloverland Business College. Appointed register of probate by the late Probate Judge Yelland in 1927, she held the position until 1956 when she became a candidate for and was elected to the judgeship.

In addition to the duties of the office of probate judge, Miss Peters is also Delta County's juvenile judge.

Judge Peters is seeking re-election on a non-partisan ballot. Her present term expires on Dec. 31 of this year. The term of Probate Judge runs for a six-year period.

Welfare Hike Measure Gets OK In House

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan House passed a $346.8 million budget bill Wednesday that would put an average of $7.50 a month more into the welfare checks of an estimated 72,000 to 86,000 families.

The higher payments, subject to change by the Senate, would increase the State Social Service Department's operating appropriation for fiscal 1970-71 by $57.6 million.

Second highest appropriation in Gov. William G. Milliken's budget not counting the state school aid grant which still is being negotiated, the bill passed the house on a 69-27 vote Wednesday. It represented a compromise of some $6 million by majority Democrats who failed to muster enough support to pass a higher bill two weeks ago.

The burgeoning welfare bill by itself does not unbalance Milliken's $1.74 billion budget even though it amounts to an increase of $13 million in the governor's proposal.

Earlier Wednesday, the House adopted a $37.7 million Senate Appropriation for capital outlay reflected a decision by a joint legislative committee to forego support of most new state construction projects next year.

House passage of the welfare bill signaled new progress toward compromise between both parties and houses on other spending and tax bottlenecks.

Another breakfast conference was scheduled early today between leaders of the two houses negotiating the state school aid grant. There were indications Wednesday that agreement was near on how to write a reduction in the property tax credit on state income taxes that would raise an estimated $70-90 million in new revenues. Milliken called for $63 million by the credit cutback.

House Speaker William A. Ryan, D-Detroit, said that if that issue could be settled, he expected the House to promptly pass a $600 million compromise school aid grant. That would bridge the gap between the $1.22 billion passed by the House in early March, and a revised $972 million that the Senate adopted. Both versions contain a $22 million parochial aid section.

'Hair' Isn't Being Blessed By Police

DETROIT (AP) — The controversial rock musical "Hair" opens here Monday officially, but it will be without the blessings of Detroit police.

The musical was described as "anti-religion, anti-family, anti-flat, anti-war, anti-Establishment in general; pro-free sex and pro-pot," by Lt. Joseph Areeda of Detroit's liquor license bureau, which checks public entertainment to see if it is obscene.

Legally, however, the police cannot do anything about the musical, which includes such songs as "Sodomy" and "Hashish." The U.S. supreme court tied 4-4 recently when it tried to decide if "Hair" was obscene, thus upholding a lower court ruling that "Hair" is clean enough to be seen.

All nine members of Detroit's Common Council, meanwhile, have received invitations to attend Monday's opening as guests of the theater where "Hair" is being shown. The council rejected last week a resolution from Councilman Anthony Wierzbicki calling for a city boycott of the play. The vote was 5-4. Wierzbicki turned down his invitation to see the play and sent the producers a copy of his resolution.

It was not known how many of the councilmen had accepted the invitations to the controversial musical.

Plans Approved For Jury Study

FLINT (AP) — Plans have been approved for the first phase of a planned, two-part study of the Genesee County Circuit Court jury system.

The study is being funded by the Genesee County Bar Association, the Flint and Michigan Trial Lawyers Associations and Genesee circuit judges. It is to be conducted by Dr. Ellis Perlman of the University of Michigan.

The first phase calls for an investigation to determine if jury panels are truly representative of the county's population.

Man Demanding Examination On Assault Charge

LAKE CITY (AP) — A 41-year-old caretaker has demanded examination on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon after State Police said he fired twice at several carloads of youths.

Phil Gunnerson of rural Lake City was freed on his own recognizance Wednesday pending a June 26 examination. He demanded examination during a district court appearance Wednesday.

Troopers arrested Gunnerson Tuesday night after receiving complaints of shooting near Jennings in Missaukee County. They said the caretaker fired two shots from his rifle at several cars leaving a field which has become a gathering place for youths.

The field reportedly is part of the property which Gunnerson cares for.

DST Backers Won't Give Up

LANSING (AP) — Daylight Savings Time backers have filed their petitions with the secretary of state's office elections division while waiting to find out if the Appeals Court will allow the issue on the ballot.

Backers of fast time for Michigan have argued the law governing filing of such petitions is "unreasonable." Present law specifies that the petitions must be filed 10 days before the start of the legislative session.

Attorneys representing the Wolverine Golf Club contended before the State Appeals Court earlier this week that the provision represented an "added burden to the right of initiative."

The court has indicated it will rule on the issue this month.

Petitions containing some 207,000 signatures were filed with the elections division in Lansing Wednesday. The Appeals Court had ordered the office to accept them pending the ruling on the time limit.

Main circulators of the petitions and making the delivery were representatives of the Michigan Chamber of Commerce and the greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce.

The fast time advocates were collecting signatures earlier this year but did not have enough by the deadline in January.

If the court rules for the DST backers, the petitions still have to be certified by the Board of State Canvassers.

In order to put the issue on the November election ballot, 196,953 valid signatures are needed.

Even 10,000 signatures over the number required is a skinny margin to bet on — since close scrutiny uncovers so many errors in such mass petition drives.
